IN THE BEE TO-DAY

WEATHER.

The local forecast for to-day is snow, colder to-night. For Friday, colder, with flurries of snow. Cold wave Saturday morning.

The storm that was central in Georgia last night has moved up the coast and is now central over the New England states. Clear and cold weather still continues west of Chicago, and snow is falling in the Ohio Valley and lower lakes.

The temperature in the Canadian northwest continues to fall and this morning stations along the border on the Canadian Pacific road report from 32 to 44 degrees below zero. The 30 degrees below zero line includes northern Minnesota and Dakota. The zero line extends from the "Soo" southward to Keokuk and thence northwestward. The temperature in the United States ranges from 60 degrees above on the Atlantic coast to 32 degrees below zero in Minnesota.

The conditions are favorable just now for getting the full effects of the cold wave at this point. The temperature will likely change in the morning and by Saturday morning we will see a zero temperature. The highest here yesterday was 23 degrees. The lowest this morning was 17 degrees. Total amount of melted snow, .10 inch.

THE PRINCE IS DEAD

Albert Victor, Duke of Clarence and Avondale

And Heir Presumptive to the British Throne,

Met a Peaceful Death Early This Morning.

It Was a Losing Struggle Against Fate.

Genuine Mourning in English Towns—The Deceased Was Soon to Wed His Cousin, Princess Mary Victoria, of Teck.

London, Jan. 14.—News has just been received that the duke of Clarence is dead. The last bulletin last night was favorable and there was no apparent change for the worse at the 8 o'clock bulletin this morning. Soon after this bulletin there was a decided change for the worse and death came quietly and peacefully. The duke died at 9:15 a. m.

The correspondent of the United Press watched for most of the night at Sandringham. Reporters were not admitted and only scantiest information was communicated. Queen Victoria was immediately notified at Osborne of the death of her grandson.

She at once telegraphed to the Prince and Princess of Wales her deep grief and her heartful share in their loss.

At 11 o'clock the mayor of London received a dispatch from the Prince and Princess of Wales. It only said: "At 9.30 this morning our beloved son passed away."

"The great bell of St. Paul's tolled forth the news to the waiting city and the announcement was immediately posted at the Mansion house.

The flags on the tower of London and on all public buildings were placed at half mast, while at Windsor castle the half masted flag also gave notice to the people of the royal borough of the calamity that had befallen the royal house.

The whole country is in mourning. The news came with a shock upon the people, as the early morning bulletin had encouraged hope of a better result. The news was posted at Marlborough house, the London residence of the Prince of Wales at 9:15, just 10 minutes after the death of the duke.

The crowd in waiting, largely composed of working people, gave vent to loud expressions of grief, and of pity and loyalty for the queen, the Prince and Princess of Wales and Princess May.

Pall Mall and adjoining streets were thronged. Hundreds of well-dress women and men, evidently of nobility and gentry, crowded along with the common people on the sidewalks and roadways, which were jammed with carriages. The news spread rapidly through the West End, and everywhere there was the same expression of grief and sympathy and loyalty.

A dispatch from Sandringham says that when the last moments came the prince and princess of Wales, the prince and princess of Teck, and the princess Victoria Mary, commonly known as Princess May, the betrothed of the dying prince, were grouped at the bedside.

The Princess May had passed a sleepless night but she bore herself with courage in face of her terrible affliction. Her eyes red with weeping, and the heaving breast told of her broken heart.

The princess of Wales was apparently overwhelmed by the sense of her privation. There was a marked improvement during the early part of the night, but the duke's strength suddenly failed at about 2 o'clock this morning and he gradually sank until he died.

The announcement some weeks ago of the engagement of his royal highness Albert Victor, Duke of Clarence and Avondale, to his cousin, the Princess Victoria Mary, of Teck, moved, for many reasons, the sympathetic interest of the people of the United Kingdom.

Nothing more closely touching the sentiment which binds together the British nation and the ruling dynasty has occurred since the marriage of the Prince of Wales himself. Public sympathy was for some days back fastened painfully upon the illness of the younger son, Prince George of Wales, now passing into a stage of convalescence.

This sympathy was lately concentrated, with more joyous omens, on the fortunes of his elder brother, Prince "Collars and Cuffs," as some called him.

The prospective entrance of the eldest son of the Prince of Wales into the married state was an event with important bearing on the monarchial system as established by law and upheld by public opinion in England.

It provides for the continuance, in the direct line, of the heirs of the crown under the act of settlement, and it furnished a practical guarantee for the fulfillment of that object, such as never had been forthcoming since that statutory bulwark of the monarchical constitution became law.

Never since the revolution has the eldest son of the heir apparent, in the lifetime of his father and of the reigning sovereign, become a married man.

On public as well as private grounds, the Duke of Clarence's forthcoming marriage was heartily welcomed throughout Britain.

The deceased was 27 and his intended bride 24 years of age. It is no secret that there was for some time an attachment which has borne the same tests that are found to be the most valuable in private life.

The marriage of one destined, in the ordinary course of events, to sit on the throne, is subjected to conditions which do not hamper the choice of plain commoners or even of nobles; and it was a point to be noted that, notwithstanding, the alliance approved by the queen and by the Prince of Wales is founded on affection tried by time.

The Princess May is the daughter of the Princess Mary of Cambridge, a first cousin of the queen; and her father, the Duke of Teck, is a scion of the royal family of Wurtemburg, but of a branch which renounced its rights and descended into the ranks of the higher nobility.

Prince Albert Victor Caristian Edward, Duke of Clarence and Avondale, was the eldest son of the Prince of Wales and the heir presumptive to the throne of England. He was born on January 8, 1864, and was created Duke of Clarence and Avondale and Earl of Athlone in 1890. The dead prince was educated at Trinity college, Cambridge, and at Heidelberg university. Previous to entering college Prince Albert Victor and his brother, Prince George, passed their examinations for the royal navy and they both served the two years term as naval cadets on board H. M. S. Britannia, the cadet training ship for the royal navy.

In 1879 the two princes went on a tour around the world.

The line of succession, owing to the death of Prince Albert Victor descends through the Prince of Wales to his second son, Prince George, of Wales.

The latter's constitution, though not strong, is said not to be as feeble as that of his elder brother. The late heir presumptive was a major in the Ten Hussars, of which regiment his father is honorary colonel.

Prince Albert Victor first saw the light at Frogmore Lodge, near Windsor. In addition to being a major in the Tenth Hussars, the prince was honorary colonel of the fourth regiment of Bombay cavalry (Prince Albert Victor Guards), and was on the staff of Prince Blucher De Wahlsaat's regiment of Russian hussars, a Roumanian regiment.

Prince Albert Victor has been more popular with the British public since his engagement to Princess Victoria Mary, of Teck, was announced. Among his familiars he was known as Prince Eddie; to the people he was more generally known by the nickname of "Collars and Cuffs."

Prince George, who is now the heir presumptive, is very much of a good humored, rollicking boy, a typical British tar at heart, up to all sorts of fun and frolic, and on the best of good terms with his mother and sisters.

It is wonderful how proud boys are of a pretty mother, and the young royals are no exceptions to the rule. Prince George's matrimonial projects have scarcely been discussed as yet, for it is not the custom in England to marry the younger before the elder, at all events among princes, unless there is some very cogent reason for doing so.

The nation, it is clear, is honestly in sympathy with the queen. Princess of Wales and the Princess May, three royal personages, whose good qualities have endeared them to Englishmen everywhere. The Prince of Wales, of course, comes in for sympathy. He has until recently held a strong hold upon the affection of the masses, but recent events have somewhat cooled the degree of esteem in which he was held, though he cannot be said to have lost his popularity.

Politically, the death of Prince Albert Victor will have no great effect in England, though it must be added, Prince George of Wales, the second son of the Prince of Wales, has enjoyed a far greater degree of popularity than the dead prince was ever able to arouse.

Doubly Sad.

London, Jan. 14.—The Times says that the heart of the nation goes forth to the grief-bowed parents and to his weeping bride. The event, the Times adds, is deepened in intensity by the light shadow which made its approach.

The Evening News remarks that the queen's advanced years render her susceptible to the sorrow and that the death of her probable successor has been the most severe blow she has felt since the death of the prince consort.

The St. James Gazette says that the sense that tears are mortal things was never more deeply felt. It adds that it would be sycophancy to say that the hapless prince was regarded with enthusiastic devotion or with intense personal regard by the majority of the people. There is no reason to believe, however, that the nation has lost a promising prince.

The St. James Gazette, in conclusion, joins with other newspapers in expressing the opinion that the prince's death has not any political significance and expresses its condolence with the widowed bride.

STOLE EVERYTHING IN SIGHT.

Montreal, Jan. 14.—George A. Mooney & Co., tanners, have failed, and George A. Mooney has fled the city. An investigation has brought out the startling fact that hardly a dollar's worth of stock has been left in the tannery and what machinery has been left is covered by mortgages. The loss to creditors is about $100,000.

STOLE $25,000.

New Brunswick, N. J., Jan. 14.—The examination of the books of Wilton Hill, late cashier of the Jamesburg bank, shows that he was an embezzler in the sum of $25,000, as originally charged. It is also known that his estate is involved by debt to the extent of $20,000.

CHARGED WITH BURGLARY.

Hannibal, Mo., Jan. 14.—The grand jury yesterday found a true bill against Lieut. James T. Dodge, charged with burglarizing Edward Donsher's store here several months ago. Lieut. Dodge is a nephew of Gail Hamilton and a cousin of Mrs. James G. Blaine. He will be court-martialed as soon as the army can get possession of his person from the civil authorities.

EDWARD WHITNEY DEAD.

London, Jan. 14.—Mr. Edward Whitney, conservative member of the house of commons for the eastern division of Liverpool, is dead. Mr. Whitney was born at Liverpool in 1825 and was for a time mayor of that city. He was also president of the Liverpool Law society from 1877 to 1888.

IN THE GRASP OF THE GRIP.

Wauseon, Jan. 14.—(Special)—Sickness, with grip predominating, prevails here to a great extent. Owing to the illness of nearly all the teachers and a number of the scholars, school has been dismissed.

A new parasite has been discovered which infects paper money, and is found nowhere else. It is invisible to the unassisted eye, does not attach itself to persons, but multiplies at a rapid rate.

WHAT LAKE MEN WANT

Seven Hundred Thousand Dollars Needed

To Mark the Dangerous Places on the Lakes.

Lighthouses and Fog Whistles Asked for at Many Points—Starve Island May at Last be Cared for.

Washington, Jan. 14.—The delegation of vesselmen from Cleveland, after two days of hard work, evolved a special bill for lights and other aids to navigation which are deemed necessary along the chain of lakes. Capt. McKay and Mr. Keep, of Buffalo, took the bill to the lighthouse board and had another three hours' session.

The total appropriations asked for in this bill are about $700,000. The following are the items: Lake Ontario, Galloo island, steam fog whistle, $5,700; Carleton's island, light house, $8,500; Bay State shoal light ship, $800.

Lake Erie—Buffalo breakwater, fog whistle, $4,300; Erie, fog whistle, $4,300; Fairport, fog whistle, $4,300; Lorain, fog whistle, $4,300; Huron, fog whistle, $4,700; Starve Island reef, lighthouse, $8,000; Port Clinton, re-establishing pier light, $1,500; Maumee river, moving range lights so as to properly light the new channel.

Lake Huron—Scare Crow island, light and fog bell, $15,000; Middle island, light and fog signal, $25,000; Poe's Reef, Straits of Mackinaw, lightship, $15,000; St. Martin's reef, lightship, $20,000; Forty-Mile point, lightship and fog signal, $25,000.

St. Mary' river—Moving upper range lights, $5,000; lightship above Round island, $10,000.

Lake Superior—Crisp's point, light and fog signal, $25,000; Grand Marais, light and bell, $15,000; Big Sauble point, light and fog signal, $5,500; Big Bay point, light and fog signal, $25,000; Point Abbaye, lightship and bell, $15,000; Traverse island, light and fog signal, $20,000; Mendota, re-establish light and bell, $7,500; Eagle Harbor, fog signal, $5,500; Sand Hills, light $20,000; Portage lake ship canal, fog signal, $5,500; Fourteen Mile point, light and fog whistle, $20,000; Chequawegon, moving light and fog signal, harbor light and bell, $10,000; Gull island, light and bell, $10,000; Devil's island, completing light station, $22,000; Bark point, light and fog whistle, 15,500; Bayfield pier, light and bell, $5,000; Superior bay, lights, $1,200; Pat's point, light and fog whistle, $15,500; Rock of Ages, light and fog signal, $125,000; Rock harbor, light and fog signal, $10,500.

Lake Michigan—Round island, Straits of Mackinaw, light and bell, $15,000; Seul Choix point, fog signal, $5,500; South Fox island, fog signal, $5,500; North Manitou island, north end light and fog signal, $20,000; same, south end, light and fog signal, $20,000; Frankfort harbor, bell, $1,000; Ludington, fog signal, $5,500; St. Joseph, fog signal, $5,500; Manitowoc, fog signal, $5,500; Sturgeon Bay canal, lights, $20,000; Porte des Mortes, range lights and fog signal, $21,000; Rock island, lightship, $20,000; St. Martens island, light, $15,000; Little Gull island, light and fog signal, $20,000; Point Aux Barques, light and fog signal, $25,000; Squaw point, light, $5,000; Peshtigo shoal, lightship and fog whistle, $10,000.

That the sum of $60,000 heretofore appropriated for a lighthouse at Eleven Foot shoal, Green bay, be applied for the purchase of four lightships, to be stationed at Eleven Foot shoal, Drisco shoal, Poverty Island shoal and Whaleback shoal.

WIFE NUMBER FIFTEEN.

John Anderson Has a Gloomy Future.

Over a Dozen Women Whom He Has Robbed and Deserted Are After Him.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 14.—John Anderson, who is held here under charges of robbery and bigamy, and who has been rapidly gaining a world-wide reputation owing to his numerous matrimonial alliances, to-day heard, through the police, of four more women, residents of as many different states, who wish to claim him as their lord and master.

This makes a total of 15 wives for Anderson. Four others have at different times since his arrest put in claims upon his affections, but investigations showed that they had either been wholly mistaken with regard to his identity, or that breach of promise damages were the most that they could expect to gain from him.

Like their sister sufferers, the women heard from to-day all complain of having been robbed of large sums of money by Anderson, who in each case left the ladies to shift for themselves as soon as he could obtain possession of their pocket books.

PULLING EACH OTHER'S HAIR

Republicans Hold a Spirited Caucus.

They Decide to Refer the Brice Resolution to a Committee and Let It Die There.

Columbus, Jan. 14.—The republican representatives held a caucus last night and endeavored to propagate harmony in the camp. They pulled each other over the coals for a couple of hours and salted down Mr. Brittain, the young member of Columbiana, as one a little too fresh.

He "flashed" the meaningless Brice resolution last week without consultation with the older members.

It was decided to let go of this resolution by referring to the committee on elections when next reached in the regular order of business and there it will probably end its existence.

Another subject discussed was what to do with the numerous local measures, increasing the bonded indebtedness of cities, counties, townships, school districts, boards of education, etc.

There was a very decided difference of opinion on this subject, the younger members not being willing to be shut out on this class of legislation, while the older ones insist that it must be stopped.

After a heated discussion the caucus voted to restrict all legislation looking to an increase of the local indebtedness.

The question of a redistricting bill was also considered and notice was served on some of the younger members that they must stay out of the fight, that too many propositions were coming to the front.

After a wrangle the question was dropped and the matter of rearranging the judicial districts taken up. There is a strong desire to make a partisan divide, but the republicans fear trouble if this is done and finally decided to give this work a flavor of non-partisanism.

Messrs. Griffin, Taylor, of Guernsey, McGrew, Taylor of Champaign and Gallagher, were appointed a caucus committee with power to call the republicans together whenever deemed advisable. Mr. Daugherty presided.

DUNKARDS IN COURT.

They Settle Their Little Difficulties by Going to Law.

Canton, O., Jan. 14.—Judge Taylor, in common pleas court rendered a decision of more than usual importance, inasmuch as the case was, to a great extent, a test to settle difficulties in congregations of the various factions of the German Baptist church.

The case comes from Hartville, this county, and was heard during the month of October last. The denomination is called the German Baptists and is commonly known as the Dunkards.

The trouble dates back to the year 1869. In 1880 the trouble culminated in a division of the church into three factions. All these still claim to be the original German Baptists and claim ownership to the church properties. In the controversy the three factions are known as the Old Order, the Conservatives, and Progressives.

They differ in the form of worship and church government. The trouble is principally between the Old Order and the Conservatives.

In 1883 the Conservatives introduced several innovations in the form of service and expelled some thirty members of the old sect. In 1889 those expelled organized and notified the Conservatives they desired the use of the church.

Being refused, they cut a pane of glass from the window, opened the door, and held service. Then the Conservatives took the matter into court and were given an injunction restraining the old sect from having possession of the church.

The question of ownership was to-day decided, the injunction was made perpetual, and the Conservatives thus given the possession of the church building. It is said the case will be carried to a higher court.

MUCH SNOW AND ICE.

The Mississippi River Frozen Over.

Much Delay Caused to Trains—Southern Navigation May be Shut Off for a Month.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Jan. 14.—The great storms in this vicinity have caused much damage to railroads, especially in the mountains.

The train on the Queen & Crescent, from Cincinnati, having on board a party of excursionists from Ohio, due here at 8:30 a. m. yesterday, reached the city at 5 o'clock last evening, having been detained by a washout near Somerset, Ky.

The northbound train on the Alabama & Great Southern was delayed several hours by a landslide near Yellow river, in north Alabama.

Two serious slides are reported on the Chattanooga Southern, which is temporarily closed. The Western & Atlantic railroad track is under water in several places. The East Tennessee road is still open, but fears are entertained for the bridge at Leadvale, on the Western North Carolina branch.

Heavy Ice in the Mississippi.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 14.—For the first time in four years the Mississippi river is frozen over at this city. The ice gorge begins at Carondolet, nine miles south of this city, and extends to the Illinois shore. River men express the fear that the river will not be open for boats inside of 30 days. If the present cold weather continues and the ice should move with a rush, it is feared much damage will be done to river craft.

WENT TO PROTEST.

Cotton and Wool Dealers in Trouble.

The Firm of Joseph Coates & Company Surprises the Business World.

Philadelphia, Jan. 14.—A note for $5,000 of the firm of Joseph Coates & Co., cotton and wool dealers, yesterday went to protest. The head of the firm admits the house is embarrassed, but no assignment has yet been made.

The firm does an extensive business throughout this country and Europe and has large branch houses at Norfolk, Savannah and Galveston.

The credit of the house has been high and its notes have sold readily in New York and this city.

The Washington Manufacturing company, of Gloucester, N. J., is also in difficulty and a foreign attachment against that corporation for $10,000 has also gone to protest.

The Coates firm, it is stated, is involved in the difficulties of the Gloucester company. No statement has yet been made by either of the two concerns. There is a heavy decline in the prices of cotton, and this is said to be responsible for the misfortune of the Coates firm.

A FREE SILVER BILL.

Pierce Wants to Force the Measure.

He Introduces a Resolution Instructing the Committee to Present a Bill and Then Withdraws It.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Representative Pierce, of Tennessee, an ardent free coinage man, fired the first gun in committee in favor of free and unlimited coinage of silver, immediately after the house committee on coinage, weights and measures effected an organization.

This was the first meeting of the committee and it was expected to be simply of a preliminary nature, but Mr. Pierce forced the subject to the front at once by a resolution to report a free silver bill without delay.

The discussion that arose on the resolution of Mr. Pierce showed that the committee is a free coinage committee, though both free silver and anti-free silver men opposed the adoption of the resolution, on the ground that it was too precipitate.

There was not much talk in regard to the policy of giving hearing and what little was said was by men favorable to free coinage.

The sentiment of the committee appears to be adverse to any prolonged hearings that will prevent consideration of the subject by the house until the session is well advanced, though members are willing to hear arguments that will be to the point and not of unusual length.

Mr. Pierce, after a lengthy debate, withdrew his resolution.

The committee meets again next Wednesday. After the meeting Chairman Bland said: "There is no doubt the committee is in favor of a free coinage bill. The resolution which Mr. Pierce to-day introduced was merely to test the sense of the committee upon the silver question. After some discussion it was decided to postpone the resolution until next Wednesday to await a full attendance of the members of the committee. There is evidently a majority of the committee favorable to the resolution, but we thought that there should be a fair opportunity for full discussion."

CHURCH BURNED.

New York, Jan. 14.—The German Presbyterian church, No. 125 East Fortieth street, was completely gutted by fire early this morning. The loss will reach $75,000. The fire was due probably to an overheated stove.

CARDINAL MANNING DEAD

His Condition Was Hopeless All Night

And Dissolution Came at an Early Hour.

His Death Was Calm and Peaceful, Like a Gentle Sinking to Sleep—Brief Biographical Sketch of the Departed.

London, Jan. 14.—Cardinal Henry Edward Manning died this morning. His condition had been hopeless for many hours, and it was hardly supposed that he would live through the night.

He continued however, to show signs of vitality and death came gradually.

Early this morning he began to fail rapidly but he was able to join devoutly in the prayers at the bedside.

At 7.20 he became unconscious and died at 8 o'clock. His death was calm and peaceful and appeared like a gentle sinking to sleep.

The household of the cardinal is in the deepest distress and there are pathetic scenes in the hall of the old men and other faithful attendants and friends weeping for the departed prelate.

Although Cardinal Manning had been suffering with a severe cold since Thursday of last week, it was not until Sunday that he took his bed. At that time there was symptoms of bronchitis and slight congestion of the lungs.

Sir Andrew Clark authorized on Tuesday, the issue of a bulletin stating that the cardinal still maintained his strength. On Wednesday the cardinal rapidly grew worse and the last sacraments of the church were administered, death resulting, as stated, this morning.

Henry Edward Manning, Roman Catholic cardinal, was born July 15, 1808, at Tottenridge, in Hertfordshire, Eng. In 1840 he was appointed archdeacon of Chichester.

Up to this time he was a consistent high-church Anglican, though, like many Oxford divines, inclined to Puseyism; but in 1851 the decision of the courts in the noted Graham case, which seemed to Manning and others to claim for the crown authority over a purely doctrinal question on the subject of baptism, left him, he thought, no alternative but to abandon his preferment and become a member of the Roman Catholic church.

It was thought by many that this would prove the beginning of a serious movement toward Rome on the part of a large section of the Anglican church.

For three years he studied the dogmas and rites of his new faith at Rome, and in 1857 was ordained by Cardinal Wiseman and became a priest of the parish of St. Helen and St. Marys. In 1865 he was nominated archbishop of Westminster, and other ecclesiastical honors were conferred upon him.

He has always been particularly energetic in the matter of public education; in 1874 was opened the Kennsington university (Roman Catholic); in the founding of which he had been for several years concerned. Perhaps more than any other dignitary of his church, he has been active in providing primary education for the masses.

The cardinal's hat was conferred upon Archbishop Manning by Pius IX in March, 1875.

The dead cardinal was, during his long life, an earnest advocate of temperance and an unfaltering champion of social reform.

Within the past few years he actively interested himself in the settlement of labor troubles which from time to time have arisen in London.

Cardinal Manning's episcopal jubilee was celebrated on Monday, June 8, 1890. He was the author of several volumes of sermons, a number of theological books and many pamphlets.

THEY ARE OUT FOR BLAINE

Anti-Harrison Delegates to Minneapolis.

The Quaker City Republicans Push the Big Hat Down Over the Eyes of the President.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 14.—Conventions were held in each of the five congressional districts in this city yesterday to select delegates to the republican national convention. Delegates favorable to James G. Blaine were elected at all of the conventions. There were but two anti-Blaine candidates, but both were defeated. In the Second district, United States Marshal Leeds received 19 out of 122 votes, and in the Fifth, where 216 votes were cast, Charles W. Henry received 30 of them. In the other three districts the Blaine delegates were unanimously elected. In the conventions of the First, Second, Third and Fourth districts, the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, The sentiment of the republicans of Pennsylvania is overwhelmingly in favor of the nomination of the Hon. James G. Blaine for president of the United States, it is hereby resolved by this convention that the delegates here nominated be requested in deference to that universal sentiment to cast their votes in the national convention for that peerless statesman and foremost republican.

The resolution adopted by the Fifth district convention is worded differently, reading:

Whereas, It is apparent to the most casual observer that the overwhelming sentiment of the republican party earnestly demands the nomination of Hon. James G. Blaine for president of the United States and

Whereas, The Hon. James G. Blaine is eminently and conspicuously fitted by his thorough knowledge of the resources and capabilities of this nation, and by his broad statesmanship, to perform the duties of president, and guide the destinies of the republic and advance and maintain the great principles of the republican party; therefore, be it

Resolved, That in obedience to the sentiment of our party, and of the eminent fitness of Hon. James G. Blaine, we request the delegates to be elected by this convention to the national republican convention, to be held at Minneapolis, Minn., to vote for the nomination of the Hon. James G. Blaine for president of the United States, and to use all honorable efforts to secure the same.

AN AWFUL SCENE.

A Father Curses His Family at His Son's Death Bed.

Norwalk, O., Jan. 14.—Unusual excitement was caused at the residence of V. Binder by the conduct of Mr. Binder. His son Theodore has been at the point of death with typhoid fever.

The father, owing to family trouble, has not been living at home. He went to the house and terrorized the family by indulging in the worst of blasphemy, prostrating himself across his son's bed and cursing the whole family. Neighbors interfered and caused him to be locked up in the city prison. The young man died.

WANT AN EXTENSION.

New Orleans, Jan. 14.—The failure is announced of W. H. Chaffee & Co., cotton factors, with liabilities of $320,000 and assests $700,000. The firm asks for an extension of one, two and three years and offers as security a mortgage on their plantation and real estate of $500,00. The general impression is the extention will be granted.

PLEADING FOR ELLIOTT.

Columbus, O., Jan. 14.—The motion for a new trial for W. J. Elliott was argued in the supreme court to-day and all the grounds were gone over by the counsel for both the defense and the prosecution. The main question, that of the impartiality of the jurors, was dwelt upon at great length.

THE REGISTRATION LAWS.

Secretary King Thinks They Should be Amended.

A General Registration Every Four Years Will Answer All Purposes and Greatly Reduce Expenses.

Sometime ago Secretary King, of the board of elections, received a communication from the Cleveland board soliciting an opinion as to the proposed amendment of the registration laws, providing for a general registration every four years, instead of annually as the present law requires.

The Toledo board submitted the matter to Mr. King for an opinion.

In conversation with a Bee this morning he said:

"There has been some discussion as to the amendment of the election laws, and I am disposed to think the law should be amended so that a general registration would be required but once every four years.

"After the registration to take place in October of 1892. Every practical purpose of the law would be met thereby, but it would, of course, be necessary to make some provision for the registration of new parties, preceeding each intervening election.

"This could readily be arranged, for it seems to me it could be most readily accomplished before the secretary, at the office of the board, within the period of from 30 to 60 days before each election.

"Thus would be obviated the necessity of providing an annual registration force. Experience teaches that it is always much more difficult to secure competent registrars than any other class of officers.

"A small clerical force at the office of the board could enter all applicants for registration in a prompt, thorough and satisfactory manner.

"It would be necessary to provide for reports as to removals and deceased electors.

"There might be some difficulty as to these matters, but some plan could be devised by which it could be done..

"Such a change would result in an unusual saving here of from $3,000 to $5,000.

"Again, the ballot law should be amended so as to reduce the number of ballots which the board is required to print and furnish for each precinct, and the number of ballots which each elector may demand in case of mutilating first ballot, should also be reduced from three to two.

"The time for printing ballots should be extended. Changes in these details would also result in a considerable saving.

"It is possible that in the near future the election board of one of the larger cities will call a meeting for a conference, as to propriety of pressing the amendment to the election laws."

THE NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED.

Those who attended the public installation of the officers of Toledo post, G. A. R., last evening, found their time profitably spent, for it was a very enjoyable affair. Commander W. H. Raynor presided. The officers who were installed by Lafayette Lyttle, were as follows: Commander, Wm. H. McLyman; senior vice commander, R. G. Bacon; junior vice commander, Wm. C. Mettler; quartermaster, E. Goldsmith; chaplain, A. G. Jennings; officer of the day, F. J. Wolfert; officer of the guard, J. C. Prentiss. Henry S. Bunker was made adjutant, S. H. Waring sergeant major, and Leroy Clark, quartermaster sergeant. On motion of Comrade Kountz a vote of thanks was tendered to the retiring officers. Remarks appropriate to the occasion were made by Messrs. Austin, Hamilton and Dowling. A bountiful lunch was served and a social hour enjoyed after the installation proper.

Tar and Tartar, Saturday matinee.

WERE MARRIED AT TOLEDO.

A Chicago paper has the following: "Judge Collins listened attentively to the complaint of Mrs. Kittie R. against Andrew F. Granger, a traveling man. Mrs. Granger is a stout blonde and is possessed of property. She married defendant March 4, 1886, at Toledo, O., and until the last three years they lived pleasantly, together. But jealousy, she says, stirred him up to such an extent that he forgot his manliness and abused her until she could no longer endure it."

Best of the season, Tar and Tartar.

IN CRIMINAL COURT.

In criminal court to-day Michael Flynn pleaded guilty to petit larceny, and was sentenced to 30 days in the Toledo work house.

The jury in the case of the state against Claude Gregory, returned a verdict of guilty as returned in the second court of the indictment, which was cutting with intent to wound.

THE LATE FATHER KOERLING.

This afternoon the remains of the late Father Koerling will be taken from St. Vincent's hospital to St. Mary's church, where they will lay in state until to-morrow, when at 10 a. m., a requiem mass will be celebrated. The interment will be made at Calvary cemetery.

THE C. AND V. CONVENTION.

On account of the late arrival of some of the delegates to the State Association of Vinegar and Cider Manufacturers' convention, no session was held this morning, the program prepared for this morning to be carried out this afternoon and evening at St. James hotel.

SIMEONI DEAD.

Rome, Jan. 14.—Cardinal Simeoni, the papal secretary, died this morning.

THROUGH THE ICE.

John Langdon, a 14-year old boy, living in the Fifth ward, skated into a hole in the ice on the river near the Wabash elevators late yesterday afternoon and was drowned. When he went into the hole he immediately sank out of sight and did not rise again.

On the road to health—the consumptive who reasons and thinks. Consumption is developed through the blood. It's a scrofulous affection of the lungs—a blood-taint. Find a perfect remedy for scrofula, in all its forms—something that purifies the blood, as well as claims to. That, if it's taken in time, will cure Consumption. Dr. Pierce has found it. It's his "Golden Medical Discovery." As a strength-restorer, blood-cleanser, and flesh-builder, nothing like it is known to medical science. For every form of Scrofula, Bronchial, Throat, and Lung affections, Weak Lungs, Severe Coughs, and kindred ailments, it's the only remedy so sure that it can be guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, you have your money back.

"You get well, or you get $500." That's what is promised, in good faith, by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, to sufferers from Catarrh. The worst cases, no matter of how long standing, are permanently cured by this Remedy.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Several council committees meet this evening.

Ice is being cut on the river at the foot of Madison street.

Liverymen report a rushing business, occasioned by the fall of snow.

Toledo council, R. and S. M., meets this evening. The new officials will be at the helm.

Annual meeting of the Lucas County Agricultural society will be held at the council chamber January 20.

A series of evening lectures on chemistry is being delivered by Prof. McPherson at the Manual Training school.

Stated conclave of Toledo Commandery, Knights Templar, to-morrow night. Work in the Red Cross on two postulants.

Revival meetings are still in progress at Memorial Baptist church, East Toledo, conducted by Rev. A. L. Jordan, of Defiance.

Miss Annie Judge, aged 15 years, living with her parents at 349 Lafayette street, died this morning from an attack of the grip.

There was a great rush for Remenyi seats at Freeman's jewelry store this morning. The concert will be given on the 20th inst.

Marriage licenses were to-day issued to Arnold Hallan and Ida Wilson; R. A. Haskins and Stella Kenny; Lorenzo Sary and Josephine Birch.

A large attendance is anticipated at the meeting to advance the interests of the Catholic Knights of Ohio at Friendship hall, Sunday afternoon.

Toledo companies incorporated yesterday: East Side Bank company, capital $100,000; Goodsell Manufacturing company, capital $50,000.

Charles Miller and William Bowers, two tough young tramps were fined $15 and costs and 20 days each in police court this morning for stealing a pair of stockings.

Ways and means committee of the council considered the city's financial condition at a meeting last night, and the auditor and members hope to get matters into shape in the near future.

Rev. Dr. Fish was asked this morning how he had hurt his finger, which was bleeding rather profusely, and he fully satisfied his sympathizing interrogator by answering, "I hit the wrong nail."

The wives, daughters and lady friends of the members of Beatty lodge, K. P., at Air Line Junction, met this afternoon at the hall to make arrangements for a phantom party, which is to be given soon.

Fifteen persons came by train from Ottawa Lake, Mich., yesterday morning, for Baptism in the Huron Street Baptist church. A religious revival is in progress in that village, and the Church of God, which they wished to unite with, believes in immersion and has no baptistry, so the rite was observed here, as noticed.

International Press League Delegates

On Their Return From San Francisco—They Are Informed That Toledo Wants Them, and Wants Them Bad.

Word has been received in this city from the local delegates to the International Press League meeting at San Fransisco, P. C. Boyle and M. P. Murphy, to the effect that a change has been made in the return trip, and that the delegates will come to Toledo, arriving over the Wabash from St. Louis.

There will be about 200 ladies and gentlemen in the party, including Mrs. Frank Leslie, Kate Field, Marshall P. Wilder, and many other journalists of note. The leading journals of the eastern states will be represented, and Toledo will have a chance to spread herself and pay homage to those who mould the public mind. The party is being royally entertained in San Francisco and the same hospitality greeted them at Omaha and Denver. It is proposed to make their reception at Toledo in every way as enthisastic.

With this in mind President Cochran of the Press club conferred with members of the club and members of the Board of Trade, and as a result of these conferences the following was wired to the Toledo delegates in San Francisco last evening:

"Toledo, Jan. 13, 1892.

"The Toledo Press club, in behalf of itself and all Toledo people, cordially invite the International Press league delegates to stop over at Toledo and enjoy the hospitality of the city on their return trip.

N. D. COCHRAN, President."

The Press club will meet to-morrow afternoon for the purpose of considering necessary arrangements.

The Ohio Yacht club, always ready to give Toledo a boost, will also fall in line and do its share as will undoubtedly other clubs.

When the delegates left Omaha they took with them a handsome souvenir printed on an imitation of ancient vellum containing a proclamation to the effect that the delegates had honored the city by becoming its guests, etc., concluding with a few statistics regarding the magic growth and industry of the city. Toledo might do the same. Our city could show the delegates a thing or two, and a souvenir of this kind would impress the fact on their minds.

At all events give the newspaper men a royal welcome. No one will appreciate it more than they, and it will be casting bread upon the waters beyond a doubt.

BLAINE'S FIRST SPEECH.

"There are but two statesmen in the world," says an old Californian, who admires the Plumed Knight, "and they are Gladstone and Blaine. I heard Blaine make his first speech over 58 years ago! Long time, isn't it? So it seems to me, but it was nearly 56 years ago, 'way back yonder in a little old log school house when we were both awkward, barefooted boys, that we were elected to speak our pieces one Friday afternoon. Scared? We were scared to death, and 'Jimmy' Blaine shook worse than I did. I can see him as though it were yesterday; there he stood, barefooted, patched trousers and a linsey woolsey 'wammus' buttoned tight around him; he dug the toes of his right foot into the ankle of his left, working and swinging his heel in a kind of semi-circle, while his hands twitched and hung like pounds of lead at his side. This is the way he bowed" (here the story teller arose and bent himself as the big blade of a jackknife shuts), "and this is what he said as he gazed steadfastly at the ceiling:

"'R-i-m, rim; p-i-n, pin;
L-i-p, lip; f-i-x, fix;
B-i-t, bit; s-i-t, sit;
J-o-b, job; s-o-d, sod; G-o-d, God.'

"Another bow, and 'Jimmy' Blaine took his seat, stumbling as he did so against the old daub chimney made of sticks!"—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

LIKED HIS BARGAIN.

A Paducah clergyman tells this, says the Louisville Courier-Journal: "I married a couple up in Allen county, and after I had pronounced them man and wife the groom took me to one side and asked me what the damage was. I told him that there was no fixed price; he might give me whatever he chose. 'Parson,' said he, 'I've got five hound pups down home for which I am asking $5 apiece, and I'll let you have one for $3!' Of course I declined so ridiculous a fee, as I had no use for the hound pup. When he got home he must have found his wife better than he expected, for he sent me one of the hound pups, accompanied with a letter saying that he was so happy with Maria that he would give me a dog for nothing."

Purveyors to the People,

A Short Talk on Teas.

If there is any one article that goes into family consumption which requires closer attention and better judgment in selecting than any other, it is

TEAS.

The cup which is pleasant, invigorating and healthful from choice, carefully selected goods, becomes unpleasant, harmful and dangerous in cheap grades, heavily loaded with coloring matter, and in many cases badly damaged by contact with salt water in transit. The goods are bought at the buyer's own price, fixed up and sold at a slight reduction from regular prices, yielding a profit many times their full value.

Our A grade teas are the extra fancy firsts, and the choicest in natural style and character of leaf, and rich, full flavor in cup. Tea experts pronounce them the flower of the tea gardens of the east.

CURRENT TOPICS.

A Sioux Falls correspondent of the New York World interviewed Senator Kyle regarding his proposed measure to secure an amendment to the constitution of the United States giving congress power to regulate marriage and divorce, Senator Kyle said:

"In South Carolina the courts refuse to recognize a divorce granted by the courts of any other state, even in cases where both parties resided at the time of the suit in the state granting the divorce, provided the marriage contract was made in South Carolina. In New York the courts have held that while a divorce may be valid in the state where it was granted, and while the second marriage may be valid in such state, it is not recognized in New York, the result being under the New York decision, that a man or woman may legally have any number of wives or husbands, thus practically establishing a system of polygamy in the largest state in the union.

"In other states the courts hold valid a divorce granted to a person who was a citizen of another state by a state in which he had a citizenship, but hold invalid a divorce granted in a state where simply a resident and not an actual citizenship is required."

"Senator Kyle has been investigating the Sioux Falls "Divorce Colony," the abuses which have grown out of it, and the laws which have made such abuses possible. He found in Sioux Falls some 200 inhabitants of other states who had come to secure a divorce, and some of whom were willing to commit perjury and practice fraud of any kind to secure the desired release.

The shortening of the route from England to India is forever engaging the attention of the British war office. The ordinary line of travel for Anglo-Indians has been from London to Paris, Rome, Brindisi and the Suez canal, but now the line of Paris, Vienna, Saxonica and Suez is under consideration, as a means of saving time. This line would certainly have advantages over the other, and we shall probably hear more of it hereafter. The recent experiments of the British military authorities in transportation and communication between England and the East Indies furnish evidence of their purpose to make every possible preparation for all the contingencies of war.

The Australian governments have received intimation from the British admiralty that colonial youths and young men will be admitted as sailors into the Australasian squadron. Men desirous of entering the navy will be sent to England for training in gunnery, but they will afterward be employed on the Australian station if they so desire. Boys volunteering will be taken to England to be trained, and afterward they will, if they wish, be employed as far as possible on the Australian station.

The Fortnightly writer gives a striking picture of the kind of places in which some of the outcasts of Paris usually pass the night. They sleep in cellars below the ordinary cellars of wine shops. Here they are allowed to remain till two in the morning on the payment of 2 sous. They are then turned out, and are readmitted at four on the payment of another 2 sous. In the intervals they go to the markets in search of some light work, or beg or steal. The reason of the closing at two is that the police consider these cellars as public houses. In rags and with gaping shoes, heavy with sleep, they crawl down to the quays. The police do not allow them to sit down or stand, and if they have not the 2 sous they must keep moving till morning.

A Washington gentleman no. in love with the design of the new coins evidently, writes the Post of that city, as follows: "The design of the new coins is hideous and inartistic. The eagle is neither the "expanded eagle" of heraldry nor a tolerable representation of the imperial bird itself. The wings are absurdly small and the position ill-drawn and ungraceful. The head of Liberty (who should be typified as a virgin) is from the Apollo Belvidere, and is furnished with a neck like a Durham bull. The government should call in the issue and destroy the dies."

Rev. Dr. Philip Schaff, in the January Forum, says: This is not an opportune time to stop the legitimate progress of theological investigation and science. Surely, the great Presbyterian church of the United States should have room and to spare for such scholars as Dr. Briggs. She is orthodox and conservative enough, and can afford to be tolerant and liberal without running any risk. She has too much intelligence, good sense, and solid piety to be thrown off her balance. Christian scholars who combine faith with learning and critical ability are rare and now more needed than ever, to disentangle the Scriptures from traditional embarrassments such as the theory of a literal inspiration or dictation, and the absolute inerrancy of the original autographs which nobody has ever seen or will see—for they are irretrievably lost. These are human fictions contradicted by undoubted facts, and make it impossible to defend the Bible against the objections of critics, historians, and scientists. The Bible is independent of all human theories of inspiration and stands upon the impregnable rock of truth. It is not a manual of geology, or biology, or astronomy, or chronology, or history, or science. Even the pope of Rome does not claim infallibility in any of these departments. The Bible is a book of religion, a rule of faith and duty, no more, no less; and as such it can and will maintain its authority and power to the end of time.

The correspondent of the Chicago Herald has it from the lips of one of the doctors who has attended him and who is well qualified to speak, that Mr. Blaine is as sound physically as any man of his age. This doctor says that Mr. Blaine would be in much better condition than he is now if he would only cease to worry about his condition. But he is all the time thinking about his numerous ills and his aches and pains, and a slight attack of indigestion like that of yesterday is sufficient to throw him into the most acute mental agony. If any means could be devised whereby Mr. Blaine could absolutely refrain from thinking about himself for three months, according to this physician, and he would pay proper attention to his diet and mode of living—for despite his great anxiety about himself he is one of the most careless of men in his habits, he would be able to stand almost any amount of fatigue or work. Mr. Blaine has naturally a robust constitution, but he has weakened it by his constant habit of worrying and always imagining the worst.

Judge Daly, of New York, has demonstrated in an admirable way the possibilities of a scrap book. Interested from youth in geographical questions, he has preserved from that time all magazine and newspaper articles bearing upon those subjects, and has classified them in proper order. As a result he has a collection of clippings that is not only unique but exceedingly valuable. Many of the articles thus preserved were written by persons who never took the trouble to collect them in book form, and so they have been practically lost to the general student. Judge Daly's collection fills some 700 volumes, and his presentation of them to the American Geographical society has placed them in a position where they will be open to the use of the public, and at the same time serve as a monument to one who appreciated the value of intelligent "scrapping."

The league of American Wheelmen are engaged in a laudable [illegible] working up a public sentiment sufficiently strong to secure the construction of good roads throughout the country. This organization,, which represents about 25,000 members, has sent out literature devoted to this subject, and also an appeal for subscriptions to the Highway Improvement fund. The necessity for better roads, especially in the west and south, is admitted by all who have traveled enough to know the road condition of the highways in different parts of the country, and all such will commend the wheelmen for taking up this subject, for, while the bicyclists are selfishly interested in having good roads, it is equally important to every citizen that the highways in his state should be properly constructed and maintained in good condition.

FITNESS IS BEING CONSIDERED.

To a greater degree than ever before voters are demanding ability and character as requisite qualifications for candidates for public office, and the old cry, once so potent, "Vote the regular ticket!" is disregarded by hosts of citizens. The regular ticket is carefully scanned now as it never before was, and the party that nominates one without regard to its fitness is certain to make a mistake.—Philadelphia Record.

LAKE SHORE WATCHES.

Local Candidates for Railroad Commissioner.

The Toledo Freight Agents Meet—A C., H. & D. Conductor Dies—Many Other Timely Matters Touched.

The first order regarding the watches to be used on the Lake Shore railroad gave notice that the following makes and grades would be accepted for service:

First and second grade, Howard; Special and New Railway, Hampden; Crescent street, Walton; Nos. 28 and 98, Columbus; and first grade Rockford.

There was some dissatisfaction expressed by the employes of the road regarding this order, but matters have been fixed to the satisfaction of all by the issuing of another order, this week, giving notice of the acceptance of the following watches in addition to those above mentioned:

Railway King, Columbus Watch company; Anchor and John C. Dueber Special, Hampden company; Appelton, Tracey & Co., Waltham; No. 10, Aurora company, Henry Molineux; Seth Thomas company, Raymond, Elgin company; No. 88, Rockford company; Burr or No. 107, Illinois company; and those of other manufacture of the same grade.

Candidates for Railroad Commissioner.

The fact that Gov. McKinley has stated that a practical railroad man will be appointed as commissioner of railroads and telegraphs is highly gratifying to railroad men. The Toledo division of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers met last evening and indorsed the name of J. F. McVean as a suitable man. Wm. Kirkby and Engineer Charles Knight, of the C., H. V. & T., are also candidates.

Toledo Freight Agents.

The annual meeting of the Toledo Freight Agents' association was held last evening and the following officers were elected: President, J. B. Lownsbury; treasurer, C. C. Wilson; secretary, E. M. Gossman; executive committee, Messrs. Ralston, Youse and Gerkins.

C., H. & D. Conductor Dies.

E. Edmonds, one of the oldest passenger runners on the C., H. & D. road, died at his home at Lima Monday, of pneumonia, brought on by an attack of the grip. He had been on the D. & M. division for 25 years, and most of the time his run has been between Lima and Toledo. He leaves a widow and four children, his eldest daughter being the wife of Passenger Conductor John Glancy. He was a prominent member of the B. of L. E., and a Knight of Pythias.

Cinders from Many Engines.

C. T. Wight, commercial agent of the B. & O., has returned from Chicago.

General Manager Ashley, of the T., A. A. & N. M., is up on the line.

General Passenger Agent J. M. Hall, of the W. & L. E., is out of town to-day.

The annual meeting of the C., H. V. & T. has been postponed until February 2.

J. H. Laraber, traveling passenger agent of the Ohio & Mississippi, is in town today.

The Columbus passenger committee will hold its annual meeting Tuesday next at 2 p. m.

General Agent E. B. Coolidge, of the Wheeling & Lake Erie, is at the general offices to-day.

M. D. Woodford was elected a director of the Dayton & Union railroad at the recent meeting of the company.

E. T. Affleck's many friends will be pleased to learn that he is improving in health. He is at present at Havana.

There was no quorum at the meeting of the Toledo Superintendents yesterday, and nothing was done in consequence.

The local office of the C., H. V. & T. is handing out to friends a neat inkstand and pen rack, in the construction of which buckeyes play an important part.

J. J. Kirby, traveling passenger agent of the T., A. A. & N. M., left yesterday for Ann Arbor. The Michigan Press association is meeting there. He will offer them the use of the Ann Arbor road gratis.

Wm. Gates has issued a handy condensed local railway time table. The whole thing is in a nut shell, so to speak. Copies can be obtained at Gates' ticket office or at the office of the Toledo Transfer company.

HAUGHTON'S FOUNDRY

Suffers by Fire—Trouble Over the Insurance on the Same.

Fire broke out in Haughton's foundry and machine shops, on Huron street, south of Lafayette, about 2:30 this morning. In response to a general alarm, the fire department was soon on hand, and by hard work managed to confine the fire to the frame part of the foundry. This part of the works, however, contained a large amount of valuable machinery and patterns and the loss will be in the neighborhood of $20,000. The cause of the fire is laid to spontaneous combustion.

The foundry was partly insured, but regarding part of this insurance a question is raised that will probably result in a law suit.

Merrill, Jackson & Ketcham were carrying some $12,000 of insurance for the firm, and these policies expired 12 days ago. Mr. Haughton says that before that time he notified them to renew the same, but the policies had not been returned to them, and this morning the insurance people notified Mr. Haughton that the policies had not been renewed and the insurance is lost.

OVER A GIRL.

Two Young Fellows Have a Bad Fight,

And One of Them Gets Cut in the Neck by His Rival

George Squires, a young man living at Air Line Junction, was cut with a knife or razor last night in the hands of another young fellow named Yundt, and going under the sobriquet of "Reddy."

The cutting was the result of jealousy between the two fellows regarding a young woman, Miss Lida Hurd, to whom they were both paying attention.

Squires was returning home last evening between 7 and 8 o'clock, when he met Yundt and the girl near the corner of Erie and Tecumseh streets, and the fight immediately started; which one began it is not known. In the melee Yundt drew a knife or a razor and slashed Squires on the neck and arm.

Yundt escaped and Squires was taken to the police station, where his wounds were dressed, and he was afterwards sent to his boarding place at Air Line Junction. He says that his home is in Huron, and that he has been in Toledo but a few weeks. His cuts are not dangerous, though he had a close call.

Yundt lives on St. Clair street, where his father keeps a second-hand clothing store, but as yet he has not been arrested.

SMALL COAL THIEVES.

Peter Willat, John Johnson, Albert Gonyea and Richard Roe, alias Frederick, all small boys, were arrested last evening by Detective Fordham, of the Ohio Central Railway company, for stealing coal from that company. In police court this morning, Frederick was sentenced to 26 hours in the city prison, and the other three will spend 24 hours each in the same place.

PRESIDENT KNISELY

Visited by Brother Attorneys and Friends.

The announcement in the Bee yesterday that Mr. I. E. Knisely would be the choice of the directors of the Northern National bank for president, was a pleasant surprise to his many friends.

Early this morning the brother lawyers and other friends about the Produce exchange crowded into Mr. Knisely's office and warmly congratulated him on his good fortune in having such honors thrust upon him.

Clem Carpenter suggested that they all go down to the bank and show the officials what distinguished friends their new president had on his list, and who might become customers thereof. Another remarked that the bank officials might look up their visitors' rating and love Mr. Knisely more for his enemies than his friends.

Mr. Alex Smith looked bothered about something. The boys noticed it and gave him a chance to relieve his mind. He said he had been debating mentally ever since he read the notice in the Bee, whether the distinction conferred upon Mr. Knisely was a recognition by the banks of the profession or the profession of the banks.

It was unanimously agreed that the profession had made overtures to the banks.

EX-GOVERNOR CAMPBELL

Drops Into Toledo on Professional Business,

And Has a Pleasant Word with a Bee—He is Now Hustling as a Lawyer and Feels He is Himself Again.

Ex-Governor James E. Campbell arrived in the city last evening, and was greeted by many friends at the Boody this morning.

Traces of the grip are apparent in Governor Campbell's appearance, but otherwise he is as hail and hearty as ever.

"I am in Toledo on business of a strictly private nature pertaining to my profession," said Mr. Campbell to a Bee this morning, "and just as soon as I can possibly consummate matters here, I am off for Sidney.

"Yes, I have taken up the practice of law where I left off, and if you have any business over your way in my line, you will find me ready to command.

"I am feeling excellent and am appreciating the relief afforded by the change to its full extent, I assure you. It does me good to get back into the professional business again, and I was anxious for the change to take place. Not that I was ready to lay down the honors and duties of the office with one term, but as the majority willed it, and there was no alternative, I was ready to quit.

"I have established headquarters at Hamilton, where I expect to conduct my legal business. My family will reside at Columbus until summer, and I will divide my time between the two places."

In last evening's Columbus correspondence to the Cincinnati Post is the following relative to Gov. Campbell's manner of doing business:

President C. C. Waite, of the Hocking Valley railroad, tells this incident of ex-Gov. Campbell:

"Ten years ago, when he was elected to congress, I sent him a pass over the C., H. & D. road. He sent it back, saying as a public official he could not accept it. Two years ago he was elected governor. I had changed to the Hocking Valley road, and I sent him a pass again, as is customary to governors. He sent it back. Then I sent one to his wife and family. That was sent back, too.

"To-day I sent him a pass as a private citizen, and he accepted with thanks. I had to be persevering, but I won at last."

BADLY DEMORALIZED.

Ohio Farmers' Alliance Not at Peace Within Itself.

A Bitter Fight is in Store for the Delegates—The Question of Union to be Discussed.

Zanesville, O., Jan. 14.—(Special)—The fourth annual convention of the Ohio Farmers' alliance is holding a two days' session here.

After a brief prayer W. H. Likens, of Caledonia, the president of the alliance, formally declared the convention opened and appointed a committee on credentials.

While waiting for its report the organizers in the different counties were called upon to give a statement of the condition the order was in.

Judging from the reports as a whole the alliance is in a badly demoralized condition, attributed chiefly to the people's party movement and the attempt to run it into politics.

In may counties there have been no sub-alliances organized in the past year, and among those already established the interest has decreased and the members fail to pay their dues.

In the annual report of the secretary, Joshua Crawford, of Galion, he said that the total receipts last year amounted to but $4,070, which hardly met the necessary running expenses and allowed no opportunity to work up and stimulate an interest in the movement.

In response to an address of welcome by Mayor W. S. Bell, Alfred Whittaker, of Cleveland, said that the Farmers' alliance was by no means dead, and that it would live and thrive and prove the greatest blessing to the farmers of this country that they had ever known.

He said that the greatest menace to our free institutions and the prosperity of our country was not the anarchal sentiment that had a stronghold in our cities nor unrestricted immigration, but that it was organized capital and the policy it was pursuing.

There is going to be a big fight in the convention over the question of consolidating with the southern or secret alliance. This is a distinct organization from the Ohio alliance, and favors a third party, sub-treasury bill, and governmental control of railroads and telegraphs.

A large number of delegates are opposed to such measures, and indications of the fight show it will be bitter. It came in the appointment of the committee on resolutions by President Likens, who is against amalgamation, but the convention smashed it and put in a committee that will report to-morrow in favor of the combine. Both sides are striving to get all their friends here in time to vote on the resolutions. It would not be surprising if the convention would go to pieces on this rock.

Mrs. Diggs of Washington, D. C., addressed the convention. She was radical in her utterances, and seemed to have the sympathy of the audience.

ST. CLAIR STREET BRIDGE.

Harbor Master Skeldon is repairing the old bridge over Swan creek on St. Clair street, under the authority given him by the ways and means committee Monday night. The bridge was in such a dangerous condition that it would have been necessary to close it in a few days if some repairs had not been put on immediately. While the repairs are being made the bridge is still open for travel, but it may be necessary to close it one day during this week or next.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Current for Produce and Other Articles

San Francisco Commercial Herald of January 7: Review of the week ending Wednesday, January 6, 1892.—The local market retained a steadiness that was not warranted by the state of things abroad, as it remained at $177 1-2@1 80. Spot business was not very lively, owing to fluctuations in the English markets buyers did not care to operate to any great extent. There was, however, an active movement on account of business done previously, and receipts for the week were heavy—582,653 ctls. of wheat and 16,645 1-2 bbls. flour.

The heavy rains of the week, which averaged through the state about six inches, rendered crop prospects, so far as they can be predicted at present, of the very best description. We, however, always must wait until the springtime till it is possible to tell what the outcome will probably be. In fact, in California the harvest must be at hand before any correct idea can be really formed of the outcome.

There have been some fluctuations in futures. There were sales of 2,600 tons seller 1892 at $1 55@1 54. The export movement for the week was heavy—557,932 ctls of wheat and 21,563 bbls flour.

Receipts to date have been 50 per cent. above those of the same time in 1890. From July 1 to January 2, inclusive, and the corresponding period in 1890 (flour being reckoned as wheat):

1891-92 12,158,800
1890-91 7,349,007

Receipts for the two calendar years Centals.

1890 and 1891 thus compares:

1891 22,480,099
1890 18,817,854

The exports of breadstuffs from this port by sea from July 1, 1891, to January 6, 1892, as compared with the corresponding period of 1889-90 have been as follows:

	1891-92.		1890-91.
	Flour, bbls.	Wheat, ctls.	Flour, bbls.	Wheat, ctls.
Total..	644936	9403563	630652	6315760

Beerbohm's London Corn Trade List of Jan. 2.— England.—The weather since Christmas day has become relatively mild for the season. The previous sharp frosts do not appear to have been injurious to the young plant, but the reports concur in stating that the usual area has not been sown with wheat.

France—The agricultural reports continue favorable in France, but the young plants are making such rapid progress that a covering of snow is very necessary in case of a sharp frost. The country markets have remained very quiet, as usual at this period of the year; farmers continue to offer sparingly, but there is no lack of foreign wheat, and as millers are buying very little just now, prices have given way, especially for foreign wheat.

Belgium—The wheat market at Antwerp has again been very quiet this week, and foreign sorts have declined 6d to 1s per qr, the trade being quite of a holiday character. Red winter delivered at Antwerp varies from 30s to 40s per 480 pounds, according to quality, whilst No. 1 California is quoted at equal to 42s 9d per 500 pounds. Rye has been held at late rates, a good demand being expected in February for Germany. The stock of wheat at Antwerp is large, viz, about 500,000 to 600,000 qrs, against 400,000 to 500,000 qrs last year, and 200,000 qrs in the previous year.

Germany.—Milder weather has been experienced in this country, and the agricultural prospects are considered quite favorable. Farmers, however, are fearful of the effects of the first severe frost if snow does not fall.

Austria-Hungary.—The recent cold and dry weather has had an unfavorable effect on the late sown crops in Hungary according to the latest official reports, and in many places the young plant is said to be turning yellow. Nevertheless the general outlook is said to be satisfactory.

Russia.—Last postal advices from Odessa, dated December 26, report very cold weather, the thermometer marking 9 degrees below zero. Heavy snow had fallen intermittently, thus affording a protecting cover for the young plants. Navigation at Nicolaieff is now interrupted by ice. The reports that the exports of oats and maize will be allowed shortly, are without foundation, but it is said that the export of flour may be permitted on the condition that wheat in equal quantities to the exported flour be imported.

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth are 183,580 bu., and at the five other principal western points 167,189 bu. Last year's receipts at all of the above points, 228,448 bu. The export clearances yesterday at three Atlantic ports were. Wheat, 613,145 and flour to an aggregate of 850,000 bu., Boston not included. The exports of corn were 577,545 bu., and of oats 11,581 bu.

English markets as reported herein give a stronger tone, at opening, on wheat and corn.

The Washburn Bill.

We have heretofore pointed out that Senator Washburn was a large representative of the Minnesota flour industry, as well as the political representative of the whole state in the United States senate. Mr. Washburn is reported to be a fair man, but as human nature is built, personal interest very often overrides cool judgment. Mr. Washburn's interest in milling is the underlying and stimulating incentive to the bill he has introduced for the suppression of competition in the business of buying wheat of the farmers. Whether his bill will have that effect is open to grave question. It is questionable whether a bill can be framed, with that as the leading object, that will not be found worthless in practice. The aim of the bill, as we have said, is to drive from the wheat fields of the farmers a large portion of the competition in buying which now exists and in the same ratio to increase the chances of the millers for purchasing the wheat at low prices. We are in favor of unrestrained competition in the purchase of agricultural products. To prove that speculative purchases tend to enhance the price of the farmer's products it is only necessary to reason by analogy. What is the effect on real estate, and a long list of commodities? Washburn's bill tends directly to make the farmers of the country the speculators, and if speculation is harmful and gambling and wicked, as a public policy in a few dealers, how much more corrupting will it be to convert the great agricultural interest into a gambling community? The bill makes the farmer in effect the great dealer in futures. We shall continue our comments on this subject for a few days. To-day we wind up by saying that the bill is based upon bad public policy and upon worse motives, and Senator Washburn hasn't friends enough in congress to pass it.

Markets To-Day.

The little upward flurry in wheat in American markets yesterday had its effect in steadying English markets, and as will be seen below, in advancing prices in Berlin and Paris. If anything can be made clear and strong in wheat, it is that such will continue to be the effect if America will moderately advance and maintain her own markets. What have we gained by looking on placidly and permitting our values to be slaughtered? We have not exported a bushel more, or barrel more, and a further decline will simply reduce values abroad in a corresponding ratio.

To-day the markets have been firmer and wheat at Chicago at one time advanced 3-4c to 7-8c, and in New York 5-8c, on the May future, but before the close the advance was lost and the closing was weak.

Corn has been firm, with the turn in sellers' favor, especially at Chicago, and the closing is lower in New York and about steady in Chicago.

Liverpool is reported as closing unchanged. Berlin a shade higher, and Paris 1 1-2c bus up.

The Press sends out the statement that the prohibition of exports of cereals may be removed Apr'l 1st.

In New York January wheat closed 1-8c and May 3-8c lower. January corn 3-8c and May 1-8c lower. January oats 1-4c lower.

In Chicago May wheat closed 1-4c lower. January corn 1-8c up and May 1-8c down. January oats 1-4c higher.

In Toledo a fair amount of trading in wheat futures was reported, principally for May, and the most of it at improved prices compared with yesterday's closing. On the call May sold at 96 7-8c. After the call May commenced at 96 3-4c, sold up to 97c from which joint it declined and closed at yesterday's price, 96 1-4c. July sold at 91 1-2c to 92 1-4c, and at close was lower to sell. After 'Change May sold at 96 1-8c to 96c.

Cash wheat was in fair request. No. 2 soft sold at 91 1-2 to 92 1-2, the latter in L. S. elevator, declined and closed at 91 nominal. No. 3 soft at 89 to 90. No other grades sold.

Corn. No. 3 soft at 39 1-2 to 40, and after change was offered at 39 3-4. No. 4 at 38 1-2. No oats or rye reported. Dressed hogs at $4.80@5.00.

Clover seed was nominally unchanged but firm offering light. We quote prices for cash at $5.55. No. 2 at $5.55@5.45. Rejected at $5.00.

The Markets.

London wheat market favorably affected by American advices. Liverpool wheat dull but steady. Corn steady but dearer.

The receipts of wheat at seven principal western points to-day are 360,769 bu. compared with 228,448 bu on the same day last year.

Crops in Michigan.

Lansing, Jan. 14.—The January crop report shows that the wheat crop suffered no injury during December. There were marketed during the month 1,852,692 bu. and in five months, from August to December, 8,869,647 bu. which is 1,139,275 bu in excess of the amount for the same period in 1890.

California Wheat Movement.—The receipts at San Francisco in the week ending January 6 equaled 971,090 bu. of wheat and 16,645 bu. of flour. The exports equaled 929,872 bu. of wheat and 21,563 bbls. of flour. From July 1 to January 2, the receipts equaled 20,264,466 bu. of wheat and flour reduced to wheat against 18,915,000 bu. of wheat and flour in 1890-91.

Call Board, 10 a. m. To-Day.

No. 2 red soft—Sales 1,000 bu., 92c.
S. May—5,000 bu., 96 7-8c.

Markets by Telegraph.

London, Jan. 14.—1:00 p. m.—Wheat and maize cargoes at opening, nothing offering. Wheat cargoes on passage and for shipment, American advices effect market favorable; maize more inquiry. No. 1 California wheat just shipped or promptly to be shipped, 500 lbs, California terms, 41s 6d; No. 1 California wheat nearly due, 500 lbs, California terms, 41s. French country markets very slow and occasionally cheaper.

New York, Jan. 14.—Money loaned easy at 2 1-2@3 per cent.

Exchange quiet; posted rates 484@486; actual rates 483@483 1-4 for 60 days and 485@485 1-4 for demand.

Governments steady; currency sixes 109 bid; 4s coup. 116 1-2 bid; extended 2s registered 100 bid.

The stock market opened this morning, the first prices being all lower than those of the closing of yesterday. Sugar trusts led the weakness, declining 1 3-8. Missouri Pacific declined 1 per cent. and St. Paul and Whisky trusts 3-4 per cent each. The general market was only slightly lower. During the first hour the changes were insignificant as a rule and dealings displayed no feature. There was a little hardening of values, however, and by 11 o'clock, in many cases, the opening decline had been fully recovered. In the hour at noon the trading was extremely dull and with the exception of an advance of 7-8 in Northwestern and a further decline in the trusts nothing worthy of note transpired. At this writing the market is dull.

The sales for the morning amounted to 144,700 shares.

New York, Jan. 14.—Flour quiet; Minnesota extra, $3 50@5 40; city mill extra, $5 00@5 10 for West Indies; fine, $2 50@3 20; superfine, $2 95@3 75. TOLEDO, OHIO, JANUARY 14, 1892.

Brother Griffin is altogether too profane for a Christian statesman.

Now that Admiral Flickinger is again boss of the canal marine, what will he do with it?

Senator Gear wants a couple of ship canals in Ohio. They would be handy, but several generations will probably come and go before such canals will even be commenced.

They speak of Brice, Hill and Gorman as the triumvirate of big democratic politicians. Just such resourceful leaders are needed this year. The party welcomes their leadership.

The republicans in the legislature don't know just what to do with the Brice matter, but they will caucus awhile and then will probably drop it. The more they discuss it the more they will be disgusted with the fellow who first urged a contest.

Verily we know not what a day may bring forth. In one trans-Atlantic dispatch comes news of the death of the heir presumptive to the throne of England, the Duke of Clarence and Avondale, and of Cardinal Manning, the most distinguished prelate of the Roman Catholic church.

Col. Dan Ryan, Secretary of State, has issued advance sheets of his annual report in two handy documents for reference purposes—election statistics and the Ohio roster of federal and county officers. In many particulars Mr. Ryan is the most practical secretary of state Ohio ever elected. We all like Dan.

Possibly Uncle John Sherman did not pay money for votes, but Foraker republicans have insinuated as much. It is a dirty party mess all around. In morals, if not in law, it is as much a case of bribery to offer office as money for votes, and nobody questions that John Sherman used the power of the administration for votes. Keep a tab on the senators and members who will receive official favors at the hands of the elegant manipulator from Mansfield.

"Suppose you do find out that the charges against the Keystone National bank are true, what are you going to do about it?" asks a republican organ of the prospective committee of investigation. In the same republican spirit, it is said, if not in words: Suppose we have emptied the national treasury; have taken money from the pockets of one class and put it into the pockets of another—what are you going to do about it? Suppose we have doubled the tax on many of the necessaries of life and made many articles of production cheaper to the foreigner than to the home buyer; what are you going to do about it? These are questions for voters to answer.

The arrange ment of the Ohio congressional districts so that one political party will have fifteen congressmen and the other have six is not honest, no matter which party is responsible for the law. The difference in the vote as expressed at the recent state election would justify the republicans in taking twelve or thirteen of the twenty-one districts. More than that number amounts to a gerrymander. Honors are about easy in this gerrymander business. Both parties have gone to extremes in the matter. We can hardly expect the present partisan republican legislature to even approach fairness in the apportionment. The fellows on deck are not constructed for fairness.

A great man is gone; an intellectual and moral force drops out of the Christian world, with the death of Cardinal Manning. Like Cardinal Newman, his early labors were in the church of England. He was ordained at Oxford in 1834, in 1840 became archdeacon of Chichester and in 1851, when a legal decision subjected the church to the authority of the crown on a question of doctrine, he joined the church of Rome, of which he was made a priest in 1857. But to whatever church he gave his faith and loyalty, he was always the Christian man of good works and of great spiritual fervor. His good offices in the great strike of the dockmen in London in 1889, are of recent record. Before his change to Roman Catholicism, he published a number of volumes of sermons and since that event his pamphlets and papers have been chiefly upon topics connected upon papal power, Catholic councils and Ultra-montanism. His death leaves a vacancy not only in his own religious body, but in the great universal church of mankind.

Mr. Samuel R. Backus has advanced the idea that if the government deepens the channels of the rivers connecting the great lakes of Superior, Huron and Erie the flow of water through Niagara River will be tremendously increased and that in time the levels will be reduced to the present stage. Possibly this is so, though it is to be presumed that such eminent engineers as Col. Poe and Gen. Casey have given this subject sufficient thought to arrive at satisfactory conclusions before recommending the contemplated improvements. Conceding the force of Mr. Backus' objection, still the almost incalculable advantages of deep water connections between the lakes, and the wonderful future that is in store for lake navigation, will suggest protection against undue waste of water. It would not be an impossibility to dam against such loss near the entrance to the connecting rivers. If Holland can successfully dike against the almost resistless floods of the North Sea the United States and Canada can maintain a proper water level in the great lakes. The tonnage that passed the Soo canal last year exceeded the business of the Suez canal, which is the royal highway of the world to India. The tonnage at the Soo is greater than the entire coastwise business of the Atlantic and Gulf states. The business of the lakes makes greater proportionate strides than the railways of the United States. It is nature's free highway of trade. It is America's greatest inland blessing. The United States can afford to do anything and everything to advance its interests.

When the shadow of the silent monarch, Death, crosses the threshold, titles present and crowns prospective fade into insignificance and nothingness. Today the Prince and Princess of Wales are the bereaved parents, weeping beside the cold and inanimate form of their eldest born. But yesterday all was sunshine and glad anticipation. The crowned heads of the world were sending congratulations for the good fortune that was, and the happiness to come. To-day the same heart-breaking grief that finds bereaved hearts in the humble home, with the crape-knot on the door, shrouds the stately rooms at Sandringham palace. It is the same mother's heartache, the same disappointment and sorrow that the hope, pride and ambition of the father's life is gone out in darkness. Behind the scenes, the family of the Prince of Wales are the tender, affectionate, model homekeepers. When the Princess Louise married Lord Fife, all for love of him, as the court journals said, came the first break. Then the Queen and royal household rejoiced when Prince Albert Victor, or "Eddie" as his fond mother called him, made choice to their liking. Prince George, "the jolly tar," now becomes heir of the heir apparent, and the two princesses, Victoria and Maud, who already have marriage prospects, are the remaining children of the household. The civilized world will condole with the Queen and her family in their great bereavement and sorrow. It is not only that the pathway to a throne has been crossed, but that fond hearts mourn the dearly loved and early dead.

He Didn't and He Isn't.

"Colonel Watterson says 'Springer is not a leader.' But is not Colonel Watterson just now hitched to the hind axle and under the wagon?"—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Oh, no, he didn't and he isn't. He merely said that Mr. Springer "has not been" a leader. Whether he will be remains to be seen, as also whether the editor of the Courier-Journal "is hitched to the hind axle and under the wagon." He does not think that he is.—Courier-Journal.

Thoroughly Wanamakered.

Honest John Wanamaker is taking his advertising away from a Philadelphia paper which supports Blaine. And its editors are telling him that the next time he wants evidence against him in a bank wrecking case suppressed they will know what to do about it. Surely Philadelphia republican journals must have been very thoroughly Wanamakered before it could make the disgraceful confession involved in this no less disgraceful threat.—St. Louis Republic.

It Has Maligned Many.

Ex-Senator Blair's plaint that he has been misquoted by the newspapers with reference to his views on the Chines question looks somewhat strained. The publication that has done Mr. Blair more harm than any other is the Congressional Record, and Mr. Blair himself formerly contributed extensively to the publication. If he has been maligned, it is out of his own mouth.—Boston Herald.

Says "Ditto" to Sound Doctrine.

A protection organ says that "Mr. Springer's bill to place wool on the free list simply says ditto to Mr. Cleveland's famous free trade message of 1887." It says ditto likewise to one of President Grant's messages, wherein he argued forcibly and showed clearly that the duty on wool "really protects the foreign manufacturer." This was the sound doctrine of the early protectionists and of the republican leaders in the better days of that party.—New York World.

Hard on St. Louis Artists.

The question arises whether or not Russell Sage wears Galway whiskers. In some of the newspaper pictures he does and in others he doesn't. In the St. Louis Republic his visage has the cunning of a rat comfortably ensconced in a bale of oakum, while according to the Globe-Democrat, printed in the same town, he resembles a composite photograph of the full moon and Pontius Pilate.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

A Safe Leader.

Mr. Cleveland is one of the very few of our great men who always dares to utter the truth for the truth's sake. He is an entire stranger to the diplomatic or demagogic theory of employing words to conceal ideas. He is honest in his faith; honest in his expressions; honest in his action, and such men are the only safe leaders in politics or statesmanship.—Philadelphia Times.

The Cause Above All.

The democratic party is larger than any man, than any state. This is 1892, and the democratic party has started out to win the presidency, with the distinct understanding that no man, no state, holds a first or even a second mortgage on the nomination. There are 44 states, and in most of them the democratic party circulates extensively.—Little Rock Gazette.

The Alternative.

"Will you have some reciprocity?" says B.
H. to the rest
Of the lands with which he'd like to trade;
"I think it would be best
For you to take it, for I warn each proud and haughty nation
If it won't take reciprocity 'twill get retaliation."

—Chicago Mail.

Blaine's Strength.

Blaine's illness is a certificate of health. A man who can survive corn bread, poached eggs, salted warm water, and mustard plasters is strong enough to run for president.—Elmira Gazette.

Morality Uncalled For.

Republican newspapers following Mr. Clarkson are calling for more "mentality" in the party. But so far as heard from not one has called attention to the greater need, morality.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The State for Immigrants.

Michigan has now another political party. If Michigan is to have many more parties it will be necessary to import some individuals into the state to form them.—Chicago News.

Foraker's Present Endeavor.

Mr. Foraker is endeavoring to prove that he is only indefinitely postponed and not laid on the table.—Indianapol's Sentinel.

RUNAWAY HUSBANDS

Traced by the Infirmary Department and Compelled to Support Their Families.

Some time ago the Bee told of the work of the infirmary department in tracing up missing husbands who have deserted their families, even to the ends of the earth.

At that time the authorities were tracing a man named Stutz, who had left his family some three years ago. He was found in California, and he is now providing for his family.

Another man named King had gone to Australia and had been away from his family some eighteen months. The infirmary department, however, after considerable correspondence, discovered that he was working for the McCormack mower and reaper company in Chicago, and one day, not long ago, his wife and three children surprised him by their arrival in Chicago. The family was united and are now living together.

NEW YORK DEMOCRATS.

The Senate Passed the Enumeration Bill This Morning.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 14.—The senate this morning passed the enumeration bill. The only change was as to the date of beginning the census, making it February 16.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Princess Victoria of Hawaii will enter Wellesley college next spring.

Young Sam Tilden, who led the contest against his uncle's will, will receive about $800,0000 as his share of the estate.

The Writers' club, of London, now has about 200 members. Mrs. Frances Hodgson-Burnett is one of its vice presidents.

Miss Harriet Monroe, who is writing the ode for the world's fair, is the daughter of a Chicago lawyer, and was educated at a Georgetown convent.

Professor Curtius, the eminent Greek scholar on whom the kaiser bestowed high honors, is said to be the most accomplished Hellenist since the days of Helen of Troy.

The marquis of Aylesbury's fine crop of wild oats has cost him his famous collection of live oaks known as Savernake forest, which he has sold for the benefit of his creditors.

Probably the oldest postmaster in the land is Roswell Beardsley, of North Lansing, N. Y. He was appointed in 1828, during the administration of John Quincy Adams, and was then a youth of only 19 years.

MENTIONED ON THE STREETS.

That florists report a busy season.

That leap year parties are right in line.

That a large number of men are seeking employment.

That there will be several theater parties this week.

That the hotel business has been good so far this year.

That the bulk of the corporation elections are over for this season.

That Col. Bonner has not yet had restored to him his gold-handled sword.

That several Toledoans are figuring on extensive European trips next spring.

That the principal streets are in bad condition from a too copious distribution of salt.

That it is feared that the winter will pass away before the toboggan slide materializes.

That the autograph gatherer is plying the business among officials and prominent citizens.

That ex-Representative Messer laughs at the unhappy situation of his successor from the country.

That Heller is sorely grieved because of the turn-down he received at the hands of Speaker Laylin.

That George Ketcham's stock farm and the Lenk wine cellars would be great sights for visiting press delegates.

That a ring should be formed, and Representatives Griffin and Gallagher be allowed to fight it out if it takes all winter.

That President Wilcox, of the Merchants' has settled down to business as if he had always been a bank president.

That talk of an assistant district attorney for Uncle Sam's court in Toledo has collapsed since the senatorial election.

That many Toledoans would have given half a dollar to witness Representative Griffin escort Senator Sherman from his hotel to the legislative hall.

That business prods along as usual at the police court, notwithstanding the seriatim speeches of the little but very important judge.

That Toledo can secure a pretty good advertisement by giving the International Press club delegates a cordial reception. The Press club will do its share; will the people do their part?

That it is more than probable the gas trustees will make a dicker for the pumping plant, though where the money is to come from is not definitely settled.

That the explanation made by the Protestant Hospital committee yesterday will have the effect to add greatly to the number of words to be ground out for the $100 prize.

That Toledo will have to look to Representative Winn, of Defiance, when it wants any business approved before the municipal corporations committee of the legislature.

That Heller finds it rather an unpopular thing at Columbus to flop about on such an important matter as the senatorship. His hang-up on the ditch committee is an estimate of his importance.

That the free employment bureau has been an institution of much value to Toledo's laboring classes, and it is hoped the iron hand of politics will allow the present satisfactory state of things to continue.

That it is an ill wind that blows no good. Electric cars may be impeded, but the owners of cutters and band wagons with runners are driving a healthy business while the ground is covered with "the beautiful."

That John J. Chester, of Columbus, has been assured of the support of Toledo republican clubs in his race for secretary of state to succeed Dan Ryan, and the question arises, will the boys be able to deliver the goods.

That Joe Ford, Kent Hamilton and John Kumler did not go down to the Sherman reception at Columbus last night, and Col. Smead hied himself to Florida before the final consummation of the victory of the "grand old man."

THE GERRYMANDER.

The man who gerrymanders his acid and whisky continues to place himself in the hands of the undertaker.—Washington Post.

The gerrymander octopus is something of a chameleon, too. In New York it is a ravening tiger. In Ohio, according to the self-same organs, it is a meek-eyed bird with a purple iris on its breast and spends its days a-cooing.—Philadelphia Record.

It is natural that the Ohio republicans should move promptly to correct the gross injustice perpetrated by the democratic gerrymander in that state, of which the democrats in the present congress are enjoying the fruit. But if they are guided by wise counsels, they will not carry their readjustment so far as to err on the other side. The gerrymander is not infrequently a boomerang.—Boston Journal.

The comments of esteemed republican organs and the communications of the president's message on the wickedness of gerrymanders might gain increased force if they noted the announcement that the Ohio legislature is going to re-district that state so as to make sixteen republican districts and seven democratic. But the indignation on that score will be confined to the democrats. The gerrymander which arouses the wrath of the party man is the gerrymander of the opposite party.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

CONCERNING CHILE.

The country will please take notice that the next democratic national convention will meet in Kansas City. Within sight of the Kaw river the next president of the United States will be nominated, and his name is Cleveland.—Kansas City Times.

May not the old and sure-enough democratic town of New York, first in the size of its majority, first in the fidelity of its unchanging allegiance, and first in its accommodations, hospitality, and attractions, though last in the consideration of the republicans, most properly be chosen? Why not?—New York Sun.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

HE LOVES US.

Sir Edwin Arnold's Opinion of the American People.

Sir Edwin Arnold arrived from the west at the Auditorium yesterday and left for New York at 5:30, says the Chicago Herald. For an hour of the time between trains he talked enthusiastically of what he had seen since last in Chicago, and with much earnestness of England's Egyptian policy as affected by the death of the khedive.

"I have learned to love the American people," he said. "Perhaps all lecturers say this, but I can certainly do so in all truth. The Americans are so like the old Greeks, so intelligent, so eager to learn. I am astounded at the magnificence of your prosperity, but at the same time I find your cities just a bit tiresome. They have so little originality as to architecture, you see. If a native of one city is set down in another the strange faces is all that tells him he is not at home. In Europe he would know from the peculiarity of the first street corner just what city he was in. Madison, Wis., is by far the prettiest place in the United States. Surrounded by four lakes it should be the Venice of America. It has not a vista but is beautiful.

"I cannot compare America with our colonies in the Pacific. I have never been below the equator despite my somewhat extensive traveling. Yet I believe that to be the land of the future. Bates, of the Amazon, told me that the great races of the world would eventually live below the equator. The people of the North have been the people of mighty intellect. That will change. Some day they will leave the cold and snow and blizzards.

"I reserve as the destiny of these great United States the control of all the lands to the south, of the whole of the South American continent. These petty troubles with Chile will die away and all will be yours. In South America alone there is room for 500,000,000 more people. Some day it will have that many and will acknowledge the government at Washington. We in England will not grudge you this added power. It is rightfully yours. With the completion of the canal across the Isthmus of Nicaragua you must have control of it and of all that surrounding Egypt of the new world.

"England has all she wishes. India always will be ours. Two men will always oppose a war over that country—the czar of Russia and the prime minister of England, whoever he may be. Still, just such a war is inevitable, although it may not come for many, many years. When, from unavoidable causes, those countries come in conflict the Romanoff dynasty will be wiped away forever. Every Russian throat east of the Caspian will be cut and the Khanates will reign once more in Asia. The remnants of the Russian army will face at home a revolution which will overthrow the reigning house. England need have no fear. Understand that there is no truth in the talk of our small army. It is the largest in the world. We can place in the field more than two million men.

"The death of the khedive means a change in the figurehead and nothing more. Politically it will result in nothing but talk. The French papers are already indulging in that, but any agitation on the part of France to secure the withdrawal of English troops from Egypt will be unsuccessful. Even should the government desire to act thus the French people who are drawing interest from Egyptian bonds would prevent it. The succession of Abbas Pasha can afford no possible ground for trouble. Ismail, father of Tewfik, paid the sultan a jolly good sum—$3,000,000, I believe—to gain the right to change the old mohammedan law regarding the succession. By that law it went to the eldest living relative. By the new one it goes, in European fashion, to the eldest son. The new law was approved by the porte, and only by that authority can it be changed again.

"French agitation on this subject is useless now. Before we occupied Egypt we asked Minister Freycinet to join us in its control. The offer was refused. It was the last chance France will ever have. We then bombarded Alexandria, made an awful mess of it, entered the country and brought about order and prosperity. To-day the people themselvse do not desire the English to go away. They know well were this done, all that has been accomplished under our rule would vanish.

"Egypt and the Suez canal are essential to England. If you had a residence the other side of the river and your office on this you would not wish the bridge to be exposed to fire and infested with thieves and murderers. Egypt and the canal are England's bridge to her residence in India. A suburb of London is known as Pimlico. I one day said to Mr. Gladstone: "We shall get out of Egypt when we get out of Pimlico.' 'I'm afraid you are right,' he answered regretfully."

A BULL'S SUICIDE.

Bull fighting, horse racing, masquerading, etc., were in order during Sunday, and among the incidents is to be noted the heroic suicide of one of the bulls early in the morning. The animal was splendidly game, and after tossing some half dozen of his tormentors in succession, one of them was so fearfully injured that we hear he subsequently died, he proceeded to create the greatest excitement that any bovine has probably ever got up in the good city of Panama. Clearing the ring at a bound and miraculously avoiding injury to any one in the crowd, the bull tore down the street at a furious rate, gained the seawall and leaped over, falling a distance of some 60 feet to the beach. Of course, not only was his neck broken, but almost every bone in his body.—Panama Star and Herald.

WISE MEN'S SAYINGS.

The eye of the understanding is like the eye of the sense; for as you may see great objects through small crannies or holes, so you may see great axioms of nature through small and contemptible instances.—Bacon.

To be a gentleman does not depend upon the tailor or the toilet. Good clothes are not good habits. A gentleman is just a gentleman—no more, no less; a diamond polished, that was first a diamond in the rough. —Bishop Doane.

Honor is unstable, and seldom the same; for she feeds upon opinion and is as fickle as her food. She builds a lofty structure on the sandy foundation of the esteem of those who are, of all beings, the most subject to change.—Colton.

I find the great thing in this world is not so much where we stand as in what direction we are moving. To reach the port of Heaven we must sail sometimes with the wind and sometimes against it; but we must sail, and not drift or lie at anchor.—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

PAPER-MAKING.

Some Interesting Information on a Business Little Understood

The production of paper is perhaps more closely regulated by the law of supply and demand than any other manufacturing process. In the early days of paper-making there was little demand for it, as it was necessary to write books by hand or print them from engraved plates. The invention of the printing-press created the first demand for paper which caused its manufacture to become a profitable industry. The hand method of paper-making was followed for many years and discontinued only upon the invention of the cylinder press. This invention gave such an impetus to the distribution of printed matter that hand paper-makers were unable to supply the demand; hence a new order of things was inaugurated and machinery for the making of paper was perfected with great rapidity. Inventive ingenuity of the highest order is constantly at work to discover other uses for paper, while the manufacture and inventor of paper-making machinery are straining every energy to improve the quality of the product, to cheapen production or to provide special grades for new uses. Judging from the still undiminished flood of inventions it would appear that the industry is yet in its infancy compared with the influence it is destined to exert on the comfort, intelligence and advancement of the human race.

The United States has a capacity for producing about 15,250,000 pounds of paper annually, not counting the idle mills of which at present about 70 are reported, out of a total of 1,180. Of this enormous product some 3,735,000 pounds are used in printing newspapers and books, and 212,800 pounds more go to help bind the books printed. It is estimated that 498,000 pounds are consumed by the building trades; 3,176,000 pounds of wrapping-paper are used, and 590,000 pounds of writing paper. An important item is the production of nearly 1,600,000 pounds of press straw and wood-pulp "boards." The production of "artificial leather," fortunately for the purchaser of shoes, has been decreasing since 1884, when 129,000 pounds of this material were produced. The most rigid economy is practiced in paper-making; hence the high degree of mechanical skill and executive ability connected with this industry as compared with the cost of the product. It may be mentioned that large mills, making over fifty tons of "news" every 24 hours, often contract to supply their entire product to a single large newspaper-publishing house, at a price as low, for instance, as 2.9 cents. per pound, which is paid by one New York journal of large circulation.—Engineering Magazine.

FIREARMS OF EARLY SETTLERS.

The Clumsy Weapon With Which New Englanders Defend Themselves.

The precise population of New England, either Indian or white, at the time of Philip's war can not be stated, but for the purpose of war it may be said that the forces on one side and on the other were equal. At that time the Indians were as well used to firearms as the whites, but the firelock of those days was but an inefficient weapon compared with the musket of later times or with the rifle of to-day.

It seems certain that in Europe flint-locks had been introduced before this time; but on the whole, the concurrence of evidence shows that such locks were not used in the civil war in England, and that both the king's party and the Puritans still relied on the matchlock. The form of this can be readily explained to any person who has seen the old flintlock of the present century. A hammer—a good deal larger than the hammer which afterward held the flint, but quite like it—had a screw which tightened or loosened the hold which two pieces of iron had upon a match.

Each soldier was obliged to carry some yards of this match with him, and when the battle began he lighted the piece of this match which was fixed in the hammer of the gun. A pan which held powder, exactly as the pan of a flintlock afterward did, was in front of the hammer, with a cover projecting, from which a sort of a horn ran up nearly vertical, to be opened by the hammer when the soldier pulled the trigger. The fire of the match communicated with the powder, and the gun went off.

This was a sufficiently complicated way in which men should go to battle, perhaps in a wilderness, where even the procuring of fire at that time was attended with difficulty. The accounts of skirmishes of those times are full of occasions when a shower put a stop to the whole battle. This is because the fire of the matches was extinguished by the rain.

To change this rather clumsy lock into a flintlock simply required that a flint of sufficient size should be screwed into the hammer in the place made for the match. The flint, then striking upon the cover of the pan, made a spark which fell at the moment the pan opened into the powder. Eventually these locks were made with great precision, so that the gun missed fire very seldom.

I have no doubt that one and another soldier in Philip's war found for himself that a flint Indian arrow-head screwed in in the place of his match could be made to answer the purpose of firing the powder much more readily than the match itself could do. A similar invention, however, as I have said, had already been made in Europe, so that it is thought that flintlock guns had been found in France as early as 1640. In 1672, however, just before the war with Philip began, the law of Massachusetts and the provision made for her soldiers still required the use of the matchlock.—Chautauquan.

City Auditor's Office.

Toledo, O., Jan. 6th, 1892.

The committee on ways and means of the common council of the City of Toledo, Ohio, and the undersigned, invite sealed proposals at this office to

at 7 o'clock p. m. for the purchase of Street Improvement Bonds to the amount of Eleven Thousand Six Hundred and Fifty-eight 68-100 ($11,658 68-100) Dollars, bearing date January 11, 1892, and payable as follows: Thirteen Hundred and Eight 68-100 ($1,308 68-100) Dollars on Jan. 11, 1893, and Eleven Hundred and Fifty Dollars at the expiration of every six months thereafter, to and including July 11, 1897, at the office of the city treasurer, with interest at the rate of five (5) per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually at the same place as evidenced by coupons to be attached to said bonds.

Said Improvement Bonds are issued pursuant to Section 2704 to 2707 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Ohio, and also under an ordinance of the common council of the City of Toledo, Ohio, "To provide for the issue of improvement bonds to pay the cost and expense of the improvement of Erie street, from Adams street to Orange street."—Passed Dec. 14th, 1891.

The said bonds will be sold at not less than par and accrued interest, to the highest bidder.

Bidders will be required to state the gross amount they will pay for the bonds besides the accrued interest to date of delivery at Toledo, Ohio. They will also be required to deposit with each bid an amount of money or a certified check on some responsible bank equal to at least five (5) per centum of the par value of the bonds, so bid for, as a guarantee of good faith, and that the bid so made (if successful) will be fulfilled in accordance with the terms thereof, and the requirements of the law and ordinances. When the bids have been examined, and the award made according to law, all monies or checks deposited as guarantees shall be returned to the depositor, or held by the city auditor subject to his call except that of the successful bidder, which shall be held and considered, and accepted as part payment of the bonds so awarded or sold, but should there be any repudiation of the contract or agreement, or refusal to accept and pay for the bonds so sold, then and in that case the deposit shall be forfeited to the city of Toledo, and shall become the property of said city, in compensation for loss and expenses attending the sale of said bonds and as liquidated damages for repudiation of bid. And no bid will be received if not accompanied by money or check aforesaid.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Proposals should be addressed to the Auditor of the city of Toledo, Ohio, and be indorsed "Proposals for improvement bonds."

W. T. WALKER, City Auditor.

LEGAL NOTICE.

Michael J. Enright and James H. Craig, residing in the city of Chicago, state of Illinois, and Mary Margaret Enright, residing in the city of Grand Forks, county of Grand Forks, state of North Dakota, will take notice that Amelia A. Enright on the 28th day of November, 1891, filed her petition in the court of common pleas of Lucas county, Ohio, against the said defendants, Michael J. Enright, Mary Margaret Enright, Charles J. Kirschner and Charles A. Wilson, the object and prayer of which petition was to set aside a deed from the said Amelia A. Enright conveying lots 156 and 157, Swayne Place, in the city of Toledo, Lucas county, Ohio, through a trustee to the said M. J. Enright, in trust, on the ground that the said deed was made through wrongful acts of coercion on the part of the said M. J. Enright; to set aside a deed of the same property from the said M. J. Enright to the said Mary Margaret Enright in trust for the children of plaintiff and said M. J. Enright on the ground that the said deed was made for the fraudulent purpose of preventing plaintiff from recovering the title to the said property; also to recover a judgment for alimony against the said defendant, M. J. Enright, for failure to support said plaintiff and the custody of her youngest child Helen.

That on the 9th day of December, 1891, a supplemental petition was filed in the said action making the said James H. Craig a party defendant, setting forth that since the commencement of this suit the said James H. Craig filed for record in the recorder's office of Lucas county, Ohio, a deed from the said M. J. Enright conveying to him all the real estate described in the petition excepting the said lots 156 and 157, Swayne Place. That the said deed was made without consideration and for the purpose of defeating plaintiff's said claim for alimony, and asking that said deed be set aside. The said defendants will take notice that an order of injunction was granted by said court on the 30th day of November, 1891, in this action restraining the said M. J. Enright from in any manner disposing of any of his real estate in Lucas county and described in petition, and the said Chas. J. Kirschner and Charles A. Wilson from paying over to the said M. J. Enright any moneys due and in their hands on account of the sale or lease of any of the said real estate; and the said Michael J. Enright and Mary Margaret Enright and James H. Craig are required to appear and answer the said petition on or before Saturday, February 6th, 1892.

NOTICE.

Gustav Benson, of Chicago, Illinois, is hereby notified, that on the 4th day of November, 1891, Thomas Hamilton, as plaintiff, filed against said Gustav Benson, et al., as defendants, in the court of common pleas of Lucas county, Ohio, his petition, alleging there is due to said plaintiff, Thomas Hamilton, on the note and mortgage, fully set forth in said petition, executed by Hamlin H. Napier to Albert E. Lawrence, and by said Lawrence assigned to plaintiff, the sum of twenty-eight hundred and twenty-three ($2,823) dollars, with interest at seven per cent. from November 4th, 1891; which said indebtedness, in virtue of said mortgage, is a lien upon the following described lands, viz:

The west three-fourths (3-4) of the west one-half (1-2) of the southwest quarter (1-4) of section number three (3); also the south three-fourths (3-4) of the east one-half (1-2) of the southeast quarter (1-4) of section number four (4) and the northeast quarter (1-4) of the northeast quarter (1-4) of section number nine (9) all in town number ten (10) south, range number five (5) east, containing one hundred and sixty (160) acres, more or less, and situate in Spencer township, of Lucas county, Ohio; that whatever interest in said lands the said Gustav Benson has, is inferior and subject to said mortgage. Said petition prays that the land may be ordered sold for the payment of the amount due the plaintiff in the premises. Said defendant is required to file his answer to the said petition, which is still pending, on or before the 26th day of February, 1892.

That Awful Disease.
Petersburg, Ind., Aug. 8, 1890.
Dr. Bergen, City:
Dear Sir—I have been a victim to that awful disease known as asthma, all my life, and very often I would be down with it—not able to be out of the house—and have tried everything I could hear of, but they never did me much if any good. I was finally persuaded to try your cure. So, after taking a few bottles of it, I was entirely free from asthma and have not had any since and don't feel that I ever will. I always keep a bottle on hand, but don't think I will ever have occasion to use it. I can cheerfully recommend it to all sufferers of asthma.

THE END OF THE STORY.

It was the end of the story,
The dream was over and done,
As the fairy mists of morning
Fade in the flaming sun.

It was only the old delusion
That speeds so fast to its end;
She dreamed of him as lover,
He thought of her as friend.

And the long hand-clasp at parting,
The soft caress and the sigh!
To her it had meant, "I love you,"
To him it had said, "Good-bye!"

And that is why the spring-times
Have found her growing grey,
With lips where his kiss still lingers—
Pure lips that have learned to pray—

While the gentle heart still echoes
The tones she will hear no more,
And the wistful eyes see visions
That will dawn on the other shore.

A musical novelty is a kind of Japanese piano, in which the keyboard is arranged in four rows of keys. The keys are disposed in such a manner that two octaves with interminable chords can be struck at once. By means of this piano many compositions of Chopin, Bach and Liszt, that have hitherto been playable only in duet form, can now be played by a single performer. Mlle. Thekla Nathan has been lately giving an exhibition of this piano.

MANOLA'S MALE DRESSER.

The Latest Fad of This Eccentric Actress.

Midnight Bell at Wheeler's To-Night —My Jack at the People's Next Week.

There are unwritten laws that govern the dressing rooms of theaters, as well as any other part of the playhouse; and they are not violated or changed. But one young actress, with a famous habit of doing freakish things, has caused a thousand of her contemporaries to say spiteful things of her, and there is a fair chance that a big slander suit will be started soon as a result of the green-room gossip that has been incautiously repeated.

It all comes out of Marion Manola's employment of a male dresser. Miss Manola is married, and her husband doesn't object to her valet, so she says. That ought to satisfy most people, but it doesn't seem to have silenced the tongue of some of Miss Manola's associates, and hence the threat of a slander suit. A manager of note and a female singer in a rival company will be the defendants, if Miss Manola's friends are not astray in their present predictions.

It would be revealed in court that Marion Manola not only pays good wages to a man dresser, but that he works hard for her, and doesn't seem ashamed of his employment. He is a little Englishman of about 22, with an insipid smile and a dapper way about him that tells at once of the trained valet. This is his first appearance in America. When Miss Manola was in London, where she went rather unexpectedly and married "Jack" Mason, she saw the little Englishman at work, and she liked his way. When he needed a new employer, Miss Manola hired him, and he came over with her. The modern actress is ingenius and enterprising with devices for getting into print, and it may be that the news here given will serve the Manola's calculated purpose, but it is too interesting to suppress.

Miss Manola is engaged to sing in "The Tar and the Tarter." In this comic opera she is required to wear tights in one act and short skirts in the other scenes.

The English valet always keeps the keys of the prima donna's trunks. Half an hour before she arrives at the theater he takes possession of her dressing room and lays out everything in readiness for the actress—her tights, her hose, her slippers, her lingerie, her various changes of costumes, her wrap and her wig. The make-up box is in excellent condition, he assures himself, and the powder cloth is conveniently placed.

By the time—for this itinerary is described as by an eye-witness—Miss Manola has reached the theater. It is necessary then that she shall get into her tights at once, because they represent the starting point of her stage apparel. The dresser withdraws. This is declared on the authority of the other female members of the company, who, not being used to valets, have sought to learn the correct usage by observation of Miss Manola's custom. There are some etceteras that accompany the tights, and they are naturally included in the process of donning.

Then it is time for the return of the valet, and from this point his work is in no sense a departure from that of any faithful maid. He deftly slips on Miss Manola's shoes, buttons everything that needs to be buttoned, adjusts and straightens her wig, and in a score of minuter things he is a helper and a human looking-glass for his mistress, whom he dresses with both pride and skill. His watchfulness is not relaxed even when she is on the stage. He stands at the entrance, wrap in hand, and when she comes off he is ready to envelope her securely against the dangerous draughts that circulate about the stage.

At the close of the performance he is quite invaluable to the actress, who asserts that he is quicker than any maid could be, and that there is always an amount of enthusiasm and care in his work that justifies her in her rather bold innovation.

No other comic opera queen has a luxury just like this valet. That is perhaps why Miss Manola's departure from ancient traditions has provoked some of her sisters to say unkind things. She herself scoffs at the criticisms, and explains them as due to jealousy. But the slander suit is hinted at as the outcome of a particularly malicious remark about the tights.

Midnight Bell.

Hoyt's Midnight Bell will be presented at Wheeler's this evening by a strong company. This piece is entirely different from Hoyt's farces and deals with the humorous side of New England life, and presents many quaint pictures. The character, Deacon Tidd, the village bad boy, the old maid and the pretty school marm will be remembered as the very essence of that sort of fun those who keep their ears and eyes open encounter in a country village every day. Another interesting character is that of the clergyman. It is not a burlesque, but a portrayal representing the nobility and self-sacrifice of a minister's life. Among the incidents is the school examination and the rehearsal of the village church choir.

My Jack, Next Week.

Walter Sanford's company in the melodrama entitled My Jack, will be seen at the People's theater next week, commencing Monday evening. It will be the second visit of the play to this city and the management is sanguine that the large patronage bestowed last season will be duplicated on this engagement.

My Jack, like the best of melo-dramas, is brim full of startling surprises and soul harrowing situations. At the same time it is rational in its scenes and episodes. It ran for an entire season in London and was twice revived in Australia. The American rights were purchased by Mr. Sanford two years ago and his aim since that time has been to make the play complete in every detail.

The company selected with great care by Mr. Sanford, includes such well known players as Henry Lee, Geo. Hoey, Geo. Montserrat, Charles Frew, Edgar Forrest, Thomas Garrick, Ethel Barrington, Lillian Brainard, Jennie Christie and others.

Notes.

The Frohman company presented Men and Women to another good sized audience at Wheeler's last evening.

WILL FIGHT IT THROUGH.

Mrs. Barnaby's Son-in-Law Means Business.

He Says Dr. Graves Is Guilty of the Crime and That Others Will be Hunted Down.

Chicago, Jan. 14.—John H. Conrad, of Helena, Mont., who has just returned from Denver, where he managed the prosecution of Dr. Graves, for poisoning Mrs. Barnaby, was at the Grand Pacific today. Mr. Conrad was Mrs. Barnaby's son-in-law, and since her death he has devoted most of his time to investigating the crime.

"This fellow Graves is sentenced to be hanged," said Mr. Conrad to-day, "and it was a just sentence. I do not see how the supreme court can reverse it. As to Ballou, I need only quote his own testimony given at the trial. He admitted that he was in the conspiracy to rob Mrs. Barnaby and that he received $10,000 of the money taken from her. He was interested in her death to that extent. As to Graves' alleged confession, I do not know, but you can say that every person implicated in this affair will be hunted down and brought to justice. The energy I have shown in the prosecution of Graves will be continued against the others."

STRIKE OFF.

The Men Go Back to Work Pending an Arbitration.

Indianapolis, Jan. 14.—The strike of the employes of the Citizens' Street Railway company of this city, which has resulted in a complete tie-up of all the different lines of the system, was declared off at 6 o'clock last evening.

The strikers consented to return to work providing President Frenzel would bear a committee of the brotherhood relative to their grievances and in the event of a failure by this plan, the matter was to be settled by arbitration.

After much pressure had been brought to bear upon President Frenzel he finally consented to the proposal.

TEMPERANCE EDITORS.

Chicago, Jan. 13.—At the quarterly meeting of the Women's Temperance Publication association, Miss Frances E. Willard and Lady Henry Somerset were associated with Miss Mary Allen West as editors of the Union Signal, official organ of the white ribbon movement. Mrs. Harriet Kelbs and Miss Margaret Ludduth were made office editors.

It is expected that on Lady Somerset's return to England in June next, after her visit to Japan, an English edition of the paper will be issued, edited by her and under the name of The World's White Ribbon.

Twenty-first—Balance of Cuyahoga, Lorain county.

The Brice Resolutions.

Mr. Brittain, from Columbiana, moved in the house this morning that his resolution against Senator Brice be referred to the committee on elections. This is according to the caucus decree of last night and means that the republicans have got all the senatorial matter they care to handle right in their own party.

Both Sherman and Foraker people were glad to see the resolution referred.

Off for Washington.

Senator Sherman and his private secretary left for Washington this morning.

In the House.

The house to-day voted a resolution of thanks to the retiring democratic officials with the exception of Sergeant-at-Arms Neal, who was not popular.

Bills were introduced to-day as follows:

Mr. Doty—Authorizing women to vote for school officers, and making them eligible for membership of school boards.

Mr. Hughes—Requiring schools boards to build and keep in repair partition fences around district schools.

Mr. Davis—Creating a state commission in lunacy, consisting of three members, a doctor, lawyer and business man, to have full control over the insane asylums of the state.

Mr. Sherrett—Regulating the practice of medicine and surgery by providing for board of examiners to examine all practitioners not in possession of diplomas.

Mr. Griffin—To allow the insurance commissioner to use the examination fees to cover the expenses of examinations.

State Lands.

Senators Geyer, Carpenter, of Meigs, Von Seggern, Phillips and McMaken were appointed as a committee to investigate how the officials of the Cincinnati could give away state property to the railways, that was given to that city for sewerage and highway purposes.

Must be Kept in Check.

Senator Sherman and Governor McKinley held a consultation yesterday and it is alleged that these two great political leaders agreed that the reins must be kept pretty tight on members of the general assembly, to keep the state away from the democrats this fall.

Will Not Confirm.

The republican senators held a short consultation last evening and resolved to not confirm any appointment made by Governor Campbell before he went out of office, unless the same appointment was recommended by Governor McKinley. All promises made by Sherman must be kept to the letter.

Blaine Sentiment.

A large number of this legislature are in favor of the nomination of James G. Blaine.

THEY WANT MORE MONEY.

Fourth-Class Postmasters Are Kicking.

Some of Them Worked a Whole Year for $1.28 and Don't Think It the Proper Caper.

Washington, Jan. 14.—(Special)—There are in the United States nearly 66,000 postoffices, of which a little less than 3,000 are "presidential." As soon as the volume of business at any office is such that the compensation of the postmaster reaches $1,000, the office becomes "presidential," the postmaster being thereafter appointed by the president.

Of the great multitude of fourth-class postmasters, who are appointed by the fourth assistant postmaster-general, thousands, under the present law which fixes their compensation by commission on business done, receive less than $20 a year each.

There are a great number of cross roads postoffices in sparsely settled districts the total outcome of which is but a few dollars a year. A postoffice in North Carolina last year did a business of $1.28, all of which the postmaster had as compensation for his services.

These offices are not "fat," as a printer would say. The postmasters have to take most of it in glory. The fourth-class postmasters of the country are moving in force on the law-givers in the hope of securing for themselves a more satisfactory and comfortable grade of salaries. Delegates from most of the states have been gathering here to hold a convention to give formal expression to their tale of woe. They declare that a man who serves his country as a postmaster and gets only $5 or $10 a year for it has a righteous reason to kick.

Brice to the Rescue.

Senator Brice has introduced a bill fixing the compensation of fourth-class postmasters. After July 1, 1892, compensation is provided for upon the basis of commissions upon the value of postage stamps, stamped envelopes, postal cards, and newspaper stamps canceled on matter actually mailed at each office and for sales of sundries at the following rate: On the first $100 or less per quarter 100 per centum; on the next $100 or less per quarter, 60 per centum; on the next $200 or less per quarter, 50 per centum, and on all the balance 40 per centum.

In addition to such commissions postmasters shall be entitled to all box rents received. When the commissions of any postmaster of this class shall reach in the aggregate for four quarters the sum of $1,000 the auditor shall report such fact to the postmaster-general who shall assign the office to the proper class and fix the salary as provided by law.

In no case shall there be allowed to any postmaster of this class as commissions an amount greater than $250 in any one of the first three quarters of any fiscal year, exclusive of money order fees now allowed for clerical labor, and in the last quarter of each fiscal year there shall be allowed.

Northern Ohio Affairs.

Three important northern Ohio postmasterships were advanced a peg to-day. Mr. Wanamaker sent to the president, upon the recommendation of Hon. Ezra B. Taylor, the names of Henry M. Leach for postmaster at Hiram, Portage county, and Frank M. Ritezell at Warren, Trumbull county. The latter was in accordance with the verdict of the people of Warren at an election recently held. Ritezell, like Abou Ben Adhem, "led all the rest." He is a son of Hon. William Ritezell, proprietor of the Warren Chronicle. For postmaster at Norwalk the name of Mr. Woolverton, recommended by Hon Vincent A. Taylor, went to the white house In this case there has been an exceedingly warm contest. The pressure for Col. Loomis is as strong as ever and it can hardly be said that the matter is fully determined. Woolverton "has the bulge," however, and the chances are greatly in his favor. It is but rarely, and only for the best of reasons, that the president turns down the recommendations of a congressman. The office at Kent will be vacant in about a month. Judge E. B. Taylor has not yet made up his mind whom to recommend.

At the president's reception last evening a report was current that Secretary Foster, who is at Fort Monroe, had suffered a relapse and was in a dangerous condition. This morning his private secretary, Mr. Wynne, telegraphed the secretary. Mr. Foster answered promptly that he was doing finely and fast gaining strength. He had had nothing like a relapse since leaving Washington.

Ohio fourth-class postmasters appointed to-day: Thompson, Geauga county, A. M. Stocking, vice J. H. Strong, resigned; Smyrna, Harrison county, M. E. Hibbs, vice R. S. Bond, resigned; Uniontown, Perry county, E. L. Tower, vice J. C. Foster, resigned; Murray, Hocking county, G. Hack, vice R. F. Ceipley, removed.

SAFE AT THE GOLDEN GATE

The Newspaper Boys Arrive on the Coast.

Big Indian a Heap Fraid of Kodaks.

A Successful Ride From New York to San Francisco Without a Mishap of Any Kind.

Auburn, Cal., Jan. 14.—The train of Wagner cars conveying the delegation to the convention of Press Clubs at San Francisco left Salt Lake City at 1:30 a. m., Tuesday. The excursionists were accompanied to the depot by Gov. Thomas, Mayor Scott and a delegation of leading citizens of Salt Lake City, including many prominent Mormons, who gave them an enthusiastic send off.

At Ogden the train was switched to the Southern Pacific and W. L. Knight, traveling passenger agent of the road took charge.

The run through Nevada along the bleak Humboldt mountains, although the most uninteresting of the entire trip, was by no means dull, the supply of amusement on board the train being inexhaustible.

The train was run as the first section of the fast mail to San Francisco and made excellent time.

At Wells, Carlin and other points along the road where stops were made bands of Indians who congregated at the depots were sumarily put to flight on seeing a score of kodaks levelled at him.

At Winnemucca the train was halted and Messrs. William Mitchell Ines and W. B. Thorpe, representing the managers of the state Citrus fair in progress at Auburn, Cal., came aboard.

They were bearers of a warm invitation to the newspaper people to spend a few hours at the fair. These gentlemen remained with the travelers and made all arrangements for the disembarkation and reception at Auburn.

In the evening all on board assembled in the dinning car where the first number of the weekly paper composed on the train and entitled Wagner's Last Libretto was read.

The publication which contained contributions from the prominent newspaper people on board was pronounced a decided success. Subsequntly a delightful musical and literary entertainment was given, one of the features being Marshall P. Wilder's humorous recital of his experience with Mormons. The run through the Sierra Nevada range, notwithstanding the severe weather was made on schedule time and when the train rolled into Auburn, not a single mishap had occurred during the trip, and at the close of this long journey everybody feels as fresh and bright as when he left New York a week ago, thanks to the good treatment of the railroad and the Wagner people.

The train arrived at Auburn at 7:30 a. m., Wednesday, and the travelers were heartily welcomed by the local authorities and the press club of San Francisco who had come over on a special train.

The arrival of the excursionists was greeted by a fusilade of torpedoes and a brass band. After breakfasting here the travelers inspected the citrus fair and being magnificently entertained proceeded to Sacramento where they were received by Gov. Markham, Mayor Comstock and leading citizens. The newspaper train reached San Francisco at 4 p. m. yesterday.

BRING TO LIFE A MAN

Of One Hundred Years Ago, and Let Him Look Around—Rev. Fisk Draws Conclusions.

A lecture was delivered last evening at the Dorr street Congregational church, by Rev. D. M. Fisk, who took for his subject the man of the twentieth century. It was a lecture full of interest throughout, and brought forcibly to mind many inevitable facts that in the hurry, bustle and confusion of this nineteenth century, are passed entirely unnoticed, or at least are generally unheeded.

He mentioned the wonderful changes that had been effected within the memory of those now living, and showed how entirely lost a man of the seventeenth century would be if suddenly brought into existence again, surrounded as he would be by a myriad of inventions, advancements and customs bordering almost on the supernatural as far as his mind of a hundred years ago was concerned. He would not understand the meaning of the terms telephone, cablegram, locomotive, phonograph, electric motor; words that are as familiar to the children of to-day as light, water, carriage, house. So he argued would the world advance in the years to come. We must lay the foundations now for a people equal to, and able to cope with, the great advancements that will be made. The coming man must be a man of brains, clear and sound, unaffected by narcotics and alcoholic liquors, and all the excesses unfortunately so common. Women should be drilled in the arts and sciences in common with men. The mothers are to build up the coming generation. They can only build from what they possess. The necessity for the broadest intellect possible for women is made manifest. Mankind should tend to develop itself, morally, physically and intellectually.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

THE Y. W. C. A.

Recently Formed Has Outgrown Its Present Quarters.

The Y. M. C. A. of Toledo has become a fixed institution. The ladies' societies of the several churches, becoming convinced of the need of a like organization for young women, formed the Y. W. C. association, which now has a room at number 19 Darst block, Adams street. It will be seen by advertisement elsewhere in to-day's paper that the ladies want to rent better accommodations—two rooms centrally located (not necessarily on Summit street). It is their purpose to make a pleasant resort for young women where they may pass the noonday hour, taking their own luncheon, or buying it at the rooms as they choose. Hot coffee is served, with good substantial food at low price. Toilet conveniences and a supply of reading mater will add to the comfort and pleasure of the place, such as they design to arrange if suitable rooms can be procured. From this outline the good people of the city will see in what ways they can aid the commendable work, and, judging by all past experience, they will not be slow in doing so. Mesdames McGaw, Fisk, Doolittle, Dickenson and others as capable are interested, and will give any further information, and also be glad to receive aid and encouragement in whatever form it may come.

Which—Man or Shirt?

Has the man grown, or has the flannel shrunk? Usually, the shirt is to blame. No, not that, either—but the way it's washed.

Flannels ought to be washed with Pearline. If you're buying new ones, start right. Have them washed only with Pearline (direction on every package) and they won't shrink. As for the old ones, Pearline can't make them any larger, but begin with it at once and it will keep them from growing smaller. It will keep them from the wear and tear of the washboard, too.

Danger

As one wash is sufficient to ruin flannels, great care should be exercised as to the use of the many imitations which are being offered by unscrupulous grocers or peddlers. Pearline is never peddled. 314 JAMES PYLE, N. Y.

HE STRUCK A MATCH

And Hunted for a Leak in the Gas Pipe.

His House is Now a Mass of Ruins.

Frightful Explosion at Anderson, Ind., in Which Several People Were Considerably Shaken Up.

Anderson, Ind., Jan. 14.—A terrific gas explosion occurred here at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Dave Dillon's boarding house was blown to pieces and a number of people badly injured.

Dillon went into the cellar to see where the gas leak was located. He struck a match and the explosion followed.

Mrs. Dillon was badly injured about the head and breast.

Maud Dillon, his daughter, had both legs broken and was badly burned.

John Donahoe, a wire drawer who boarded there, sustained a fracture of both ankles.

Tom Kilbane was seriously cut about the head.

Dillon was blown out of the cellar and across the street, but was not seriously hurt. The explosion was caused by a break in the main pipe and the gas followed the service pipe into the house. The ground for half a square around the wrecked house was cracked by the explosion and gas issued from it, which took fire and raged furiously for an hour or more until the mains were cut off.

CATHOLIC CONGRESS.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 14.—Archbishop Ireland left last night for New York en route for Liege, Belgium, where he will attend the international Catholic conference. He will be abroad four months and will visit Rome. The archbishops's visit is also rumored to be in connection with the vacant cardinalship, and his appointment thereto is among the probabilities.

ENTIRELY KNOCKED OUT.

Ottawa, Ill., Jan. 14.—Ottawa has nearly 700 cases of the grip. Sush is the prevalence of the epidemic in the county of La Salle that all of the cases on the law calendar of the county court have been continued because of the illness of attorneys, principals and witnesses, while the circuit court is doing practically nothing for the same reason.

FIVE HUNDRED GRIP CASES.

Warsaw, Ind., Jan. 14.—Over 500 cases of the grip are reported in this city. The disease has grown from a mild, easily conquered state to almost a raging epidemic. The G. B. Lesh Manufacturing company had to shut down yesterday for lack of men to operate the machinery, over half of the force being down with the disease.

A CONGRESSMAN ILL.

Sheboygan Falls, Wis., Jan. 14.—Congressman G. H. Brickner, of this place, arrived home from the bedside of a sick brother at Tiffin, O., where he has been since the holidays. He is now confined to his house sick, but his case is reported favorable to a speedy recovery and return to Washington.

All miserable sufferers with dyspepsia are cured by Simmons Liver Regulator.

DRUGGED AND ROBBED.

J. D. Sipple Relieved of Considerable Money.

He Took a Drink with a Stranger and Remembered Nothing More Until He Found Himself in Jail.

Ohama, Neb., Jan. 13.—J. D. Sipple, a wealthy stock dealer at Galesburg, Ill., was released from jail yesterday, where he has been held for the last week on the charge of insanity.

Sipple left Galesburg two weeks ago for California. There he invested $10,000 in a stock farm and started home. On his person was money and checks amounting to $3,000 also a fine gold watch.

While en route from Denver to Ohama he took a drink with an alleged traveling man and knew nothing more until he came to his senses in the Omaha jail yesterday.

He was found at the depot evidently drunk Sunday. There was nothing on his person to identify him and his valuables were gone. When he recovered he immediately wired to Galesburg and received funds. He says he was drugged.

THE TWO PUMAS KILLED.

End of an Exciting Chase in Ohio.

The Dead Bodies Were Taken to Cincinnati—They Were Six and Seven Feet Long.

Leipsic, O., Jan. 14.—The two California pumas which have been playing havoc among the cattle in this section were killed yesterday. They were discovered in a cave. The first one to make its appearance proved to be the female. It was shot.

The animal measured 6 feet 8 inches from tip to tip.

The male made a desperate fight, but finally received its death wound. It measured 7 feet 3 inches. The carcasses have been taken to Cincinnati.

CLUBS AND SOCIETIES.

A New Society To Be Organized—Notes and Announcements.

A movement is on foot to organize the students of the Tri-State Business college who have finished the course, and are holding positions, or are competent to do so, into a union or society. The object of the members will be to assist each other in securing positions, fair compensation, etc. The society will also have social features. An entertainment will be given at Wheeler's, Friday evening January 22. It will be given for the members and their friends and will be strictly invitational. A good program has been prepared and everything promises well for the success of the entertainment and the new society. A meeting will be held at the college hall on January 27 to elect officers and complete organization. Over a hundred names have already been secured.

To-morrow afternoon from 4 o'clock to 5:30, the Colloquial club will be in session at the Law kindergarten rooms, Central Congregational church. Paper by Mrs. Rachel Godfrey, on "American Mothers," and all women are invited to listen to it and take part in the discussion which will follow.

The King's Daughters who belong to the Day Nursery circle are requested to be present at the nursery meeting which is called for 2:30 o'clock Saturday. Important matters are to be considered.

The regular meeting of the Society of Economic Inquiry was not held last evening, the arrangement of the society for January being for the lecture in Memorial hall, which will be given Monday evening next by Rev. W. D. P. Bliss, of Boston, on "Work and Wages, a Study of Facts." This lecture will be free to the public, and it is hoped Mr. Bliss will have a full house. He is having large audiences in Cincinnati this week.

DENNISON'S WATCH

Was Not Stolen at the Ann Arbor Riot

Where He Was Killed—It is in Possession of His Parents and the "New Clue" Story is Groundless.

The story telegraphed over the country from Jackson, Mich., the other day, regarding a new clue to the murderer of Irving Dennison, the Toledo student killed at Ann Arbor, over a year ago, proves to be unfounded. This clue is that a member of the military company who is out west, displayed a gold watch in Jackson before his departure and said that he had taken it from Dennison when he knocked him down.

The fact of the matter is that Dennison's watch was a plain silver one and it was never taken from him at all. The watch is now in possession of his parents.

The following dispatch from Ann Arbor gives a little more light on this groundless story:

"The dispatch from Jackson, regarding the murderer of young Dennison is incorrect, so far as Regent Whitmore's connection with it is concerned. He says that as he was about to leave Jackson the gate tender at the Michigan Central, whom he doesn't know, began talking to him about the Dennison affair, and said he knew where the murderer was. Mr. Whitmore advised him to notify the prosecuting attorney. This is Mr. Whitmore's only connection with the case, and the same is true of Dr. Vaughn. The story is regarded here as the imagination of Sweet, who formerly lived here, and who the prosecuting attorney says bothered the officers during the time of the Dennison investigation with all sorts of wild clues and requests for money to follow them up. Neither the officers nor the relatives of Dennison who reside here, are aware that his watch was stolen. Nothing of this kind was brought out at the inquest, and if his watch was stolen the fact was kept very quiet."

WOMAN'S INHUMAN DEED.

She Threw Her Newly-Born Baby to the Dogs.

An Awful Scene Witnessed in the Streets of Ottawa, Ill.—The Guilty Parties Placed Under Arrest.

Ottawa, Ill., Jan. 14.—Wm. Dunn yesterday afternoon noticed several dogs quarreling over a white object in the gutter on East Superior street. Investigation showed the object to be the dead body of a newly born female child. A bloody path led from the gutter up the steps of the old Vette house to the rooms of Widow Whitney and her daughter Margaret.

The police entered the Whitney rooms, and Margaret confessed that at about 10 o'clock in the morning she gave birth to the child, and to conceal her shame threw the infant into the street. Both women were taken to the county asylum under arrest, and Margaret is in a very precarious condition. Last evening she made a statement attributing her trouble to Barry White, who has disappeared.

"I'VE WORKED EIGHT HOURS

To-Day, and Think I've Earned My Pay."

So Think the Letter Carriers of Toledo, Who Want Remuneration for Extra Labors in the Past.

The Toledo mail carriers have set a matter on foot which, if consummated in their favor, will result in the payment of several thousand dollars to them by the government.

On May 24, 1888, a law was passed providing that eight hours should constitute a day's work for mail carriers, and for time put in over eight hours, extra compensation at regular rates should be allowed. The law went in force in Toledo during the month of September, 1888. When the carriers forwarded their extra time to Washington on the first settlement, a difference of opinion arose, which, up to the present time, has not been settled, but the action now being taken by the carriers is an effort to bring the matter to a conclusion.

The postoffice department at Washington in settling over-time, deducted eight hours of each week or 48 hours a month for Sundays. The officials placed a construction on the law to the effect that Sundays were to be included as one of the days on which letter carriers should work eight hours before any overtime would be paid. The carriers consulted legal counsel, and as a result refused to accept any pay for overtime under this view of the law.

At this time more men were added to the force of carriers, and with the changes in routes, the service was regulated so as to do the work in eight hours. However, in Toledo, it was six months before any change was made, the men working twelve and fifteen hours every day. The force was increased after this, but the men still put in extra time, but not so regularly as before.

Not long ago the Toledo carriers placed their case in the hands of Attorney F. W. Rickenbaugh for prosecution. All petitions for overtime must be filed in the court of claims at Washington, where the questions raised will be determined and a decree entered.

Mr. Rickenbaugh has been taking depositions to support the letter carriers' claims for several days, and the points will be submitted to the court of claims at Washington very soon.

L. G. Carpenter, representing the department of justice at Washington, has been in the city for several days, taking evidence to defend the position taken by the postoffice department.

About 20 claims have been filed with Mr. Rickenbaugh, including a number who have been discharged or voluntarily left the mail service.

Mr. Carpenter went to Mansfield last evening, but will return next week, when the investigation will proceed.

EXCITEMENT!

Is running high over the wonderful bargains offered in Cushing's Lawrence Ave. Sub-Division of 24 choice city lots, situated on Lawrence Ave., between Bancroft and Virginia Sts., one block from Monroe. These lots are in the most rapidly developing and by all odds the handsomest residence portion of the city, and low figure at which we are holding them at present, and with the improvements about to be made, they are the best investments in the Toledo market. To those desiring a home in a growing locality, where building restrictions insure a fine neighborhood, no such inducements are offered anywhere as in this sub-division. The and the Monroe Street School are but a stone's throw from these lots, whilst the Electric Belt Line and Monroe Street Cars are within hailing distance. Call at our office and let us drive you out to see these beautiful lots before they are all gone. It will cost you nothing and we would be happy to do so.

THE WAY TO GO.

You have seen California frequently mentioned in newspapers and magazines. Perhaps a friend has been there and writes enthusiastic letters back home about the climate and the fruits. It makes you anxious to see the country for yourself.

The time to go is in the fall and winter. Then work here is least pressing and California climate is most pleasing. The way to go is via Santa Fe route, on one of that line's popular, personally-conducted parties, leaving Chicago every Saturday evening and leaving Kansas City every Sunday morning.

Special agents and porters in attendance. Pullman tourist sleepers are used, furnished with bedding, mattresses, toilet articles, etc. Second-class tickets honored. Write to Geo. E. Gilman, Michigan Passenger Agent Santa Fe route, for folder describing these excursions.

Ask your grocer for Taylor's flour.
